

president of the North Atlantic Assembly (a NATO paramilitary body), Javits now heads an "informal NATO Committee of Nine" — which undoubtedly plans precisely the kind of Atlantic cooperation necessary to chain the European working class to David Rockefeller's liquidity needs.

Rockefeller Activation

Rockefeller man and Treasury Secretary William Simon repeated the Carli performance before the Senate's Joint Economic Committee two days ago. He called for tighter credit and a drastic reduction in government spending. His second, Budget Director Roy Ash, concretized the proposals more dramatically — indicating that $10 million of the budget and 100,000 federal employees are headed for the chopping block. This policy will supplement the tight money moves — which now hold up municipalities for exorbitant interest and will be detonating simultaneous budget crises all over the U.S. when the fiscal year ends June 30.

The Simon move is already underway in West Germany and France. Finance ministries in both countries have slashed credit to localities. Giscard is now moving to plug up the remaining loopholes in the credit apparatus by removing disloyal financial personnel right and left. Finance Minister Apel in West Germany continues to press for deep cuts in government spending on all levels in order to "avoid bankruptcies" (as he puts it).

Rockefeller policy will soon put the dilemma of Rome before all European cities and U.S. municipalities as well. The banks or milk, the banks or transport, the banks or wages — these will be the choices. The Roman decision to suspend debt, taken last week, will be a necessary stopgap; the Europeanwide united front organization to support that decision, laid out in detail in the previous IPS, will be the simultaneous necessary step.

The Roman example so terrified the European bourgeoisie that it immediately and quietly arranged a loan from an undisclosed source, to be paid back at more than 15 per cent interest. It will only last for one month. Nonetheless few newspapers dared cover the event — for fear that the defiling of the sanctity of capitalist paper might become too popular. Already the moratorium proposal is being debated hotly within the youth group of the Italian Socialist Party.

What is now spreading instead, in typical Italian syndicalist fashion, is a rash of economic strikes — by municipal workers, farmers and industrial workers. In the face of a totally bankrupt economy these militant strikes are effectively no different from the massive lockouts now occurring worldwide. They do not cramp Rockefeller's style at all.

The necessary policy is the one that will hurt. Throughout Europe and the U.S. the word is going out: suspend the debt; expose the Rockefeller criminals; prepare to take over the world economy from Rockefeller now.

Nato Aims Atlanticism at Western Europe

OTTAWA, June 29 (IPS) — The two-day NATO Ministers' Conference just concluded here gleefully hailed a new pact making official Rockefeller's policy of Atlanticism to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the NATO organization. The main purpose of the Ottawa protocol, to be officially signed by President Nixon in Brussels, is to make clear to Western European nations that detente is not a substitute for defense: that relations with the Soviet Union will be tightly circumscribed by purposes of Rockefeller's global policy. The Europeans will be forced to submit to the Atlantic alliance while surrendering their chance to form any bloc with the Soviets against Rockefeller and his band of Eurotraitors.

Who's In Charge of NATO?

The final preparation of the NATO document was delayed by the French, who insisted on altering wording which defined the necessity for consultation between NATO countries prior to issuing a statement of policy.

The farcical legalism of French protests was exposed by Secretary of State Kissinger when he answered a newsman's question stating flatly that the United States would not be bound by such procedures if it deemed it necessary to act in an emergency, "such as the alert of U.S.-NATO forces at the time of the Yom Kippur War." This statement effectively laid out the real relations within Atlanticism.

NCLC Intervenes

The facade of Atlantic unity gave way, revealing deep factional strains, at the first sign of pressure from representatives of the National Caucus of Labor Committees (NCLC). An NCLC spokesman questioning NATO Secretary General Joseph Luns during his press conference pressed home the point that Atlanticism is actually aimed at crushing any resistance within Western Europe to Rockefeller's economic and political stranglehold. The NCLC asked, "Is it not true that the Italian economic situation means that NATO is to be deployed to administer austerity among member nations?" Initially Luns sought to avoid the issue by appealing to the backward attitudes of other reporters. But when pressed in particular on Eurotraitor Schmidt's role in sabotaging the Italian economy, Luns became serious. He conceded that Atlanticism does not mean that deep differences do not exist among the Europeans and added that economic disaster would have serious consequences for NATO. Luns concluded by remarking knowingly in regard to Schmidt, "I think you will find that the Germans and the Italians are getting on better now."

NATO Software: Social Control

While Luns acknowledged the hard cop role that NATO will be playing in stepping up economic disaster, Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau revealed the alliance's soft cop role. In his opening speech to the assembled ministers he called for the non-military expansion of NATO — expansion of its social and psychological control mechanisms.

Although downplayed during the two days of meetings, NATO's low-intensity preparations have always been a priority for the Tavistock-conditioned Canadians. The Committee on the Challenges of Modern Society (CCMS), a standing committee of NATO, coordinates NATO's operations in social conditioning, pollution control, psychological warfare, and related areas. The day following the conference, the U.S. and Canada announced a joint treaty on pollution control of inland waterways. Canada has recently served as the test nation in a just-completed pilot project study of this very problem conducted by CCMS. In NATO's terms pollution control means the effective use of oil slicks and other disasters in low-intensity population control operations. And July 1 NATO is convening a conference of 60 or so carefully selected pro-Rockefeller psychiatrists at Carleton University in Ottawa.

Nato Social Controllers to Confer in Ottawa

OTTAWA, June 29 (IPS)— Under the auspices of NATO, a small select group of social psychologists from Western Europe, the United States, and Canada will converge on Carleton University here next week to hatch plans for creating the psychological conditions necessary to complement the fascist military and economic programs which NATO representatives thrashed out at their conference here June 19. As the deliberately vague literature of the psychologists group puts their mission: "It is now time to go beyond general criticisms and to contribute, in theory and method, to new developments in specified substantive areas."

The conference, sponsored by the Human Factors panel of NATO, the Ford and Rockefeller-funded Canada Council, and Carleton University, is being organized by Lloyd Strickland of Carleton, a member of the Kurt Lewin-founded SPSSI (Society of Psychological Study of Social Issues). A second organizer is H. Taffel of England's Tavistock-linked Bristol University Psychology Department.

Other infamous brainwashers scheduled to attend the conference included French autogestion theoretician Claude Fauchox; John Lanzetta of Dartmouth, whose specialty is modifying the behavior of U.S. Air Force personnel; and Harry Triandis, an SPSSI officer who specializes in psychological profiles of his fellow Greeks.

Organizers from the North American Labor Party will be there to expose the criminal nature of this gathering of NATO social-control experts.
