Stockholm Raid Cover for Crisis Government in West Germany

by M. Minnicino

WIESBADEN, April 26 — Agents within West Germany's political parties have moved to supercede that country's elected government with a Bonapartist, "crisis staff" regime. Using the almost-arbitrary excuse of the armed takeover of the West German embassy in Stockholm on April 24 by members of the NATO-brainwashed Baader-Meinhof terrorist group, Rockefeller agents in Germany, led by SPD Chancellor Helmut Schmidt, have formed a "Grand Crisis Staff" made up of the chairmen of Germany's political parties and its parliamentary factions to deal with what Schmidt told a cheering Bundestag was a "war" against "international terrorism."

The Baader-Meinhof terrorists, who killed the embassy's military attache as they shot their way into the Stockholm compound, blew up the embassy killing another employee and severely wounding one of their own members when the Schmidt government refused their demands that such limits be immediately crossed. The "liberal" Frankfurter Rundschau demanded that "There would be greater security if citizens would only give up a little bit of their freedom." The Sueddeutsche Zeitung fell back into openly Nazi rhetoric, claiming that it would not simply be police that curbed terrorism, but "rather...a spiritual condition and inner force of this society."

The CIA's Stockholm raid also represents a major escalation in the Rockefeller drive to militarize the rest of Western Europe against the growing ferment of the working class and as a provocation against the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe. As of this time, the "neutral" Swedish Army is on alert around the raid. Massive police operations are still being carried out against working-class areas in Northern Italy and in the industrial sections of Germany — all over equally CIA-controlled "terrorist" activity. As part of his Bonapartist push, Schmidt has declared that the war against terror is "a worldwide demand that he release 26 of their members held in West German jails. The gang, named after their two leaders, were exposed in New Solidarity over a year ago as a CIA-controlled group, having been held and brainwashed in a NATO-funded "behavior modification" center in Germany. This was corroborated this week by the West German daily Frankfurter Allgemeine Zeitung which noted that two of the terrorists involved in the Stockholm raid had just come from a "socialist patients collective" at a Heidelberg mental asylum!

Chancellor Schmidt abruptly branded the attack "the gravest political crisis" in his political career, and convened the illegal "crisis staff" of party leaders that had been originally tested last month around the Baader-Meinhof kidnapping of Berlin mayoral candidate Peter Lorenz. The crisis for Schmidt is indeed "grave," though it has nothing to do with the blatantly-phony CIA terrorist raid. Mass-strike ferment, rapidly catalyzed by ICLC organizing for the International Workingmen's Association, in Germany's industrial heartland, in addition to strong programmatic pressure from the left wing of Europe's Communist Parties, especially that of East Germany, immediately threaten Schmidt's role as top mercenary for Rockefeller's Occupation Army.

Hammering away on the theme of a "long war" against terrorism, Schmidt told Bundestag that this staff "must be prepared to go to the limits of what a constitutional state allows." Schmidt did not say — yet — what the Rockefeller-controlled press organs in Germany were ordered to say for him: that the phony situation undertaking demanding "international cooperation." West German Foreign Minister Genscher, one of the chief organizers of the current European terror wave, has been redeployed to Sweden along with a contingent of special counter-insurgency forces, the Bundesgrenzschutz, to confer with Sweden's Prime Minister, Second International agent Olof Palme, on further coordination of police actions.
