PANIC HITS U.S. AS ALL THE BANDAIDS BUST

On the fourth anniversary of the August 15, 1971 collapse of the Bretton Woods monetary system, all the band-aid arrangements patched together to stall a complete shutdown of credit, trade, and production have shattered, condemning the Rockefeller dollar empire to the worst crisis in capitalist history.

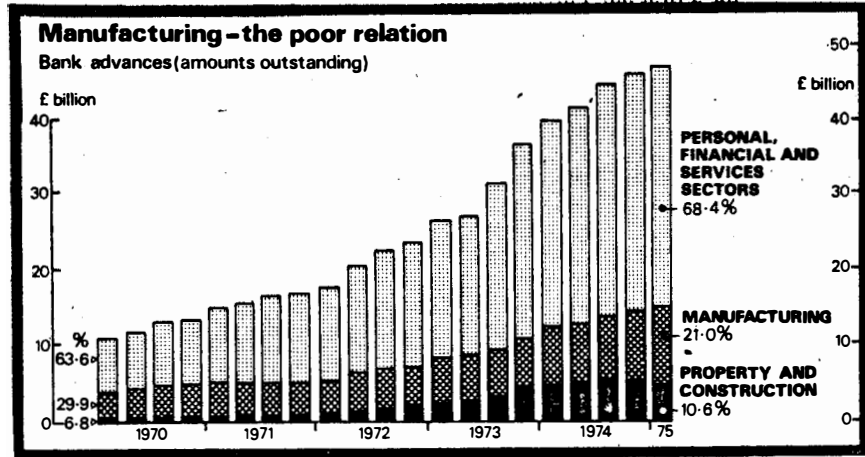

In the United States, the home ground of the international dollar empire, open panic has broken out on the credit markets. The government bond market in which the creditor of last resort—the Treasury Department—raises cash to pay its own mountainous bills, has suffered its biggest plunge in any two-week period in United States history. Interest rates on short-term Treasury notes, normally the safe haven of all investments, have ballooned to near record levels and still, according to one hysterical bond dealer, “no one is buying” but dealers themselves.

Gripped by inflation fears, escalating interest rates, and debt payment pressures, investors have pulled billions of dollars out of all but the most short-term, liquid debt instruments. In the past week over $1 billion in such funds poured into seven to 14 day commercial paper, in preference to even three-month Treasury notes! In tandem, struck by a loss of confidence in an economy whose guts are being destroyed, foreign investors liquidated more than $0.5 billion in Treasury securities over this same five-day period.

In the midst of this panic environment the cash-depleted Treasury has scheduled to sell $6 billion in mostly four-year notes, a record one week amount that will be joined with over $1 billion in Federal Agency issues.

The collapse of the government market, meanwhile, has spilled over into the corporate, stock and mortgage markets—the last remaining markets in which it is possible to finance normal capitalist production cycle. In the last ten days, the capitalized value of bonded corporate debt instruments has dropped by 3 per cent. In addition, at least 5 major corporations have cancelled bond offerings including a $150 million bond offer by Morgan Guaranty, a bank which has dominated that market for the past 40 years.

The shutdown of the U.S. credit markets, meanwhile, has raised the spectre of an immediate chain-reaction of bankruptcies. New York City, one of the world's largest financial entities, is rapidly edging toward default, “Default,” the New York Times can no longer conceal, “is now an imminent prospect.”

The Economist, the London financial weekly, recently published these statistics indicating the amount of credit that is sucked away from productive activity for Great Britain alone. This process is strangling production internationally.

The anticipation of this development has already broken the back of the nation's municipal bond market. In the last few days, the “moral obligation” of state and local agencies not backed by the full faith and credit of government have gone up in smoke. The Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency, the New York State Financing Agency, the Chicago School District, and the Buffalo Sewage Department among scores of other agencies throughout the nation have been shut out of the market, provoking defaults on their own short-term debt obligations.

In turn, the Rockefeller banking system, already close to the breaking point by a portfolio which contains 50 per cent bad loans, verged steps closer to detonation point by a new battering of defaults. The entire airlines industry is on the brink of bankruptcy, the New York Times disclosed this week, threatening $15 billion in securities held by a group of banks and insurance companies. The illiquidity crisis in the airline industry and New York City alone collectively represent about $30 billion in worthless loans that must remain on the book—or 5 per cent of the total banking assets in these two categories alone!

In its frantic attempt to build reserves against these bad loans the New York money market banks have stopped lending for production, the only means by which they can expect to be repaid. For six straight weeks loans to industry and commerce have plunged, climaxing in a $0.25 billion drop in the most recent week.

Against this declared war on production, mounting evidence has accumulated that a full-scale collapse of production from current depression levels is at hand. June business inventory figures released this week by the Commerce Department show that stocks at the wholesale and retail level have once again accumulated as consumers have stopped buying in the face of escalating prices.

The very tight monetary policies that the Rockefeller financial machine has implemented since early June to re-route all available funds from production to debt-refinancing has so destroyed the internal fabric of the U.S. economy—that there is now widespread, international distrust in the dollar.

Over the last several days, despite the much higher interest yields on dollar-denominated investments, a wave of dollar selling has weakened that currency against all major European currencies including the rotten British pound. With the Rockefeller financiers having to choose between the most severe breakdown crisis in history and a hyperinflationary course that will instantly generate 40 per cent inflation rates, the present weakening of the dollar will inevitably erupt into a full-scale run on the dollar that will make August 15, 1971 appear a rather mild affair in capitalist history.

IDB TO BE CENTERPIECE AT LIMA CONFERENCE

Aug. 17 (IPS)—Next week's conference of the Non-Aligned "Group of 77" Nations in Lima, Peru will provide the public forum for the administration of a political black eye to Henry Kissinger's global policies of genocide. It is now certain that a sizeable faction of delegates to that Conference will be present to promote the essential features of the Labor Committees' proposal for the creation of an International Development Bank (IDB); namely, the debt moratorium on dollar debt, to be followed by the adoption of a transfer ruble-backed financing system for trade between the Third World, the advanced industrial sector and Socialist bloc countries.

Just this past week the Soviet Union has taken steps to clarify its own intentions toward the world economic debacle for the benefit of those representatives of Third World populations who express difficulty in reconciling Soviet open diplomacy policy statements—such as Leonid Brezhnev's speech on the thirtieth anniversary of the victory over Nazi fascism—with the efforts of Soviet diplomats themselves. The signing of the accord between Mexico and Comecon is exemplary in this regard. Fadeyev, the head of the Comecon, characterized the accord as a "practical materialization of the noble clauses and the high principles of the Helsinki Conference."

The point was emphasized by the government newspaper Izvestia on Thursday, Aug. 14 entitled "Loyalty to Internationalism." That editorial signifies the public break with "national liberation" roads to socialism of Third World countries, and asserts Soviet readiness to assist those countries who are now prepared to embark on the road of development. "Leninist thought on the possibility of a full or partial avoidance of the capitalist phase, which opened for the people of the backward countries in the presence of a powerful socialist state, is especially confirmed by the history of our period when there exists not only one socialist island in the world but a powerful community of socialist states." The article furthermore notes that Comecon's International Bank for Economic Cooperation has established a fund of 11 billion rubles, thus far largely untapped, to support the development efforts of Third World countries in particular.

Equally significantly, the French Communist Party (PCF) has demonstrated from within the advanced capitalist sector itself, its own commitment to the realization of the essential preliminary measures for the establishment of the IDB. Last weekend General Secretary Georges Marchais convened a press conference to announce on behalf of the PCF's Politburo that the economic crisis could only be solved by breaking with the indebtedness of the dollar and the mark, and then expanding trade with the countries of the Third World and Soviet bloc. This message has been taken out to the masses of French workers in tandem with the PCF's defense of the Portuguese Communist Party (PCP). More than 70,000 leaflets have been distributed in the Seine-Maritime Department on behalf of such efforts. Two thousand copies of L'Humanite announcing the policy were sold at the Renault auto plant in Paris, and 36 workers were recruited on that basis alone.

Such efforts on the part of the PCF signify that the actual political basis for the creation of the IDB now exists. Third World countries opting for the implementation of that necessary solution will not now be thrown back on the Soviet Union alone, but will know that significant forces within the capitalist sector itself are prepared to organize massive support among the working class on their behalf. In short, representatives of Third World populations can now be assured that, to the extent that their efforts on behalf of development coincide with the interests of advanced capitalist sector workers in ending the depression and restarting production and trade, then those efforts are now guaranteed political muscle from within the advanced capitalist sector itself.

Pro-development Forces Line Up

What remains to be determined at this point is the actual strength of pro-development forces within the non-aligned group itself. It is certain that the development package represented by the Labor Committee's IDB proposal has already achieved significant penetration among the governments of Latin America, Africa, the Middle East and Asia, and, what's more, is recognized by those governments as the only workable set of proposals for any agenda which proposes to solve the urgent problems of the depression. This reality is nowhere better demonstrated than from the reflection of such influence mediated by the Latin American press in particular. Mexico's La Prensa and Venezuela's Resumen illustrate this tendency adequately enough. A columnist for the former, after noting that Argentina, India, Africa and others are moving closer to the Comecon declares that "much of all that will be dealt with at the Lima Conference... the majority of the non-aligned countries there will promote a moratorium there on their debt to the World Bank." The latter's analysis of the significance of the Helsinki accords draws heavily on Labor Committee material.

Algeria in the Lead

Notwithstanding further such evidence of wide-ranging support for IDB proposals the outcome of Lima will depend heavily on the organizing of a mere handful of non-aligned countries themselves, typified by Algeria, Yugoslavia, Iraq, Mexico and India. It is the political weight of these countries, most obvious in the case of Hourri Boumediene's Algeria which will determine the course of events at that conference. Indeed, now that Third World countries can be assured of especially PCF, but also Soviet support for such initiatives as are forthcoming from the conference itself, it is to be expected that Algerian political weight will prove to be hegemonic among the group as a whole.

It is against such efforts that Henry Kissinger's most frantic personal diplomacy has been directed. His National Security Agency provoked coup in Bangladesh has, for example, the intention of reinforcing a global Islamic Movement, which in travesty of the actual universality implicit in Islam, is specifically designed to wreck the drive for Middle East peace and development proposals advanced by Yugoslavia, Mexico and Iraq. Equally, his efforts in the Anglo-American colony of Zaire ruled by Black Face Mobutu as mediated through French Vichyite Giscard d'Estaing are intended to prevent a common front of Third World countries against Rockefeller's dollar imperialism by selectively "rewarding" those who implement genocide. Rockefeller collaborator Giscard has granted Zaire a debt moratorium in exchange for renewed efforts to sabotage the MPLA in Angola. The colony of Zaire, it should be noted, is on the co-ordinating committee of the Non-aligned group itself.

The IDB: Irresistable

Such efforts, however, under present crisis conditions, can only backfire. For now all the political ingredients required to bring the IDB into existence are afoot among mass forces in the world. Lima will provide the demonstration that governments cannot resist policies which are effectively in the interests of the continued survival of their own populations.

WEST GERMANS PUNT ON DOLLAR

by David Goldman

Aug. 16 (IPS)—Unwilling to sever links with the U.S. dollar, West German businessmen and political leaders compromised this week on the issue of whether Germany would put itself on the chopping block for financier faction in the United States.

RAND Corporation "Atlanticists" Helmut Schmidt, the German Chancellor, and his Finance Minister, Hans Apel, are playing David Rockefeller's game from the European side. Rockefeller and his flunkey at the Federal Reserve, Chairman Arthur Burns, plan to suck roughly $12 billion in foreign funds into the U.S. to meet part of the $60 billion U.S. government deficit between now and Dec. 31. Hans ("Rotten") Apel's main concern is to accommodate them.

Unfortunately, the price for West Germany and other advanced-sector nations in the Rockefeller scenario is national bankruptcy. With a Federal government deficit running at $2 billion a month, alongside similar deficits of Federal agencies and regional governments, the West German government is struggling to replace depression-level tax receipts with borrowings on the credit market. The Germans, battered by a 25 per cent drop in their lifeline of industrial exports, need every pfennig they can get.

The Federal Bank and industrial opposition forces to the "Atlanticists" dodged the issue of breaking with the bankrupt dollar at a Thursday press conference, held jointly with Apel. The two sides presented their compromise deal: no more economic war measures against Rockefeller from the Federal Bank, in return for Apel's agreement to lift standing restrictions on capital inflows into West Germany, i.e., balancing the outflows to high U.S. interest rates.

Federal Bank Vice-President Otmar Emminger nervously giggled to bewildered reporters, "We see no adverse long-term effects from capital outflows," completing his side of the compromise with Apel. The Finance Minister, in turn, authorized German banks to pay interest on foreign deposits, which encourages external funds to flow into Germany.

These gentlemen do not want to place the full burden of "austerity," which they correctly perceive as necessary, on Rockefeller, so they are forced to ask workers to shoulder the burden instead. But the financial explosion in the dollar sector means they will have to do precisely this like it or not.

Portugal, above all, makes them hesitate to negotiate their future with their "enemy" — the Soviet Union. As the Frankfurter Allgemeine sighed stupidly in this morning's editorial, they believe "at least we have a stable social system to prevent such things from happening here!" This "stability" will disappear quickly enough if they continue to prevaricate with Rockefeller. Like it or not, they will have to swallow the Portuguese revolution, and spit out the dollar.

Arthur Burns' tight-money and high-interest regime in the U.S. was so successful in siphoning funds out of the German banking system during July that the country's Federal Bank had to print money to cover four-fifths of its July deficit of DM 4.4 billion. Since the bond market went into two successive tailspins last month as a result of these outflows, the Federal government could raise only a slim DM 900 million.

This development, which bore a strong taste of the inflationary explosion of Weimar Germany, sent shock waves through Schmidt's opponents. On Aug. 5, the Economics Council of the opposition Christian Democracy issued a statement warning against the disastrous consequences of bankrolling the government through the printing press. Economics Minister Hans Friderichs, who negotiated a groundbreaking trade deal between West Germany and Poland last month, warned this week in an interview that capital outflows from Germany posed a deadly threat to the nation's trade and industry.

Covertly, the Federal Bank began selling off its holdings of U.S. Treasury securities, which total almost $20 billion — an economic warfare measure designed to counterbalance the outflows of German funds into Treasury securities. As IPS revealed last week, the Federal Bank's retaliation against Burns and Rockefeller sparked hysterical rage among money-jugglers in Washington.

Apel's Finance Ministry responded with its own "proposal": cut back the Federal budget and raise taxes to cover the government deficit, a plan which put Apel in one political cartoon holding a hammer over a man undergoing artificial respiration, saying, "Tell me when he comes to!"

A loose alliance has emerged between the Federal Bank, East-West trader Friderichs, and Christian Democratic leader Gerhard Stoltenberg, among minimum issues of national survival. This group has the backing of the majority of the nation's industrialists. Its policy — hammered on by Stoltenberg and Friderichs this week in major public statements — includes a commitment to high-technology industrial investment as a way out of the recession, and opposition to Schmidt-Apel's corporatism. It is also committed to austerity against the working class.

No Coming to Blows

At the Thursday press conference, IPS reporters twice queried the RAND financier, on the Burns-Rockefeller plan to suck the world dry of liquidity, and on Apel's views on a new monetary system, as the Soviets, Iraqis, and French Gaullists had proposed. Twice during the sleepy press conference, the audience went into uproar, as reporters and officials gathered what lay behind the prepared scripts. Apel stammered repeatedly, "I cannot answer now — I know what you are talking about — I cannot say now — I will issue a statement on this." Another reporter asked meekly, "But, Herr Minister, what do you think about the possibility of financing our government deficit?" Apel spit back, "I could answer that — but I don't want to!"

To make funds available to finance this deficit, the Bundesbank also lowered German interest rates — precisely what Economics Minister Friderichs warned against. Although they are aware that this encourages capital flows away from Germany, Bundesbank officials say, "What else can we do?" Apart from the alternative of de-coupling from the dollar, a course the Federal bankers toyed with this month through sales of U.S. Treasury securities, there is no alternative.

Ironically, the Federal bank gamble paid off this week; foreign exchange markets were more concerned with imminent credit breakdown in the U.S. than the positive edge of higher interest rates. International money ignored the interest rates and flowed into West Germany. This merely indicates that the gross stupidity and cowardice of Bundesbank officials was overmatched by the chaotic state of the Rockefeller financier faction; the two sides marched and counter-marched and never exchanged blows.

DEBT CRISIS SPELLS END OF ATLANTIC ALLIANCE

by David Goldman

New York, Aug. 13 (IPS) — The entire "Atlanticist" circuit of government officials, think-tank specialists, and businessmen on both sides of the Atlantic, is now glumly digesting the fact that Rockefeller financial policy will tear the "Atlantic Alliance" to shreds within the next several weeks.

All that the Treasury, Federal Reserve, and New York Banks — the bastions of the Rockefeller machine — can offer Western Europe is credit strangulation and trade war. As a whole, their provocations against the economically battered European continent this week provide sufficient ammunition for any European political faction that wants to get out from under 30 years of U.S. domination.

In a move without precedent since the trade wars of the 1930s, the Treasury Department this week announced that it would drive home charges of "dumping" — selling below cost in a foreign market — by European and other automobile manufacturers. The announcement reversed earlier Treasury intentions to quietly can the charges, brought originally by UAW chief Leonard Woodcock and a handful of Congressmen two months ago.

Trade-warrior David McDonald, in charge of the investigation from the Treasury side, warned, "We will pursue this thing to the bitter end. I don't care if they want to make a political brouhaha in Europe about it. They know better than that." McDonald warned darkly that Europe knows who would come out on top in open trade warfare.

State Department sources confirmed that the Treasury move was taken in retaliation against the West German Federal Bank, which last week cashed in U.S. government IOU's it had held for years under an old treaty agreement. The Federal Bank's sale of non-marketable U.S. government securities forced the Treasury to raise its already-exorbitant borrowing requirements by $1.5 billion last week.

But the West Germans' modest self-defense measures came after a month of huge liquidity outflows from Western Europe and other sectors into the high-interest debt of the United States Government, creating chaos on the German and other credit markets. The

New York Banks and their captive institutions in Washington are draining liquidity from the productive sector internationally, and from the national credit systems of dollar-dependent Europe, to maintain the integrity of dollar debt in the U.S. sector.

Grave Repercussions

Immediately, the pay-debts-at-all-costs policy of the Rockefeller banks has destroyed the ability of "Atlanticist" agents such as West German Chancellor Helmut Schmidt to operate. The Schmidt government is now openly mooting tax increases, budget cut-backs, and extreme wage austerity to reduce the $35 billion a year deficit of the West German Federal and local governments. This deficit cannot be financed, the Federal Bank discovered last month, because Burns' tight-money policy in the United States is bleeding the West German economy dry of funds. Last week's sale of Treasury bonds, which drove Washington to hysterics, represented a short-term maneuver to ease liquidity conditions in West Germany by converting dollar-denominated paper into German marks, which could then flow into the German banking system.

But if Schmidt and his cronies veer towards 1931 levels of budget austerity, a replay of the New York City Scenario on Europe's most important industrial nation, the political consequences will be similar. Second International labor agents in West Germany like Heinz-Oskar Vetter of the German Trade Union Federation are clinging to their jobs through promises of make-work jobs on Federal construction projects. But the Burns-imposed financial squeeze on West Germany rules out Schachtian "deficit spending" to relieve the million-strong ranks of the unemployed. The German Social Democracy would be left defenseless before a working-class upsurge. Even nationally based financial interests are aghast at the price of continued dollar domination; one Federal Bank director warned yesterday, "Unlike in 1931, we can't scale down government expenditures to declining income."

The issue is posed all the more sharply since the alliance between the Soviet-led Council for Mutual Economic Assistance and the Algerian and Iraqi-led Non-Aligned Nations group gives Europe a way out, should they choose it. Trade-dependent Western Europe could break out of the depression overnight on the basis of industrial orders from the CMEA and developing nations, financed by the Soviets' transfer ruble monetary system.

West German political observers estimate that about one-third of the West German parliament is prepared to break out of the dollar stranglehold, and seek the necessary terms from the Soviets and their partners in the Third World.

Within two weeks, as the Treasury attempts to raise a record $11 billion in ten business days, the question will come to a head: the New York foreign exchange traders predict a wild jump in short-term interest rates as the Treasury grabs for cash, and a consequent flood of money into high-interest dollar debt.

Stateside, individuals associated with the "Patrician" wing of U.S. capitalists are furious at the Rockefeller-Kissinger Administration for losing them the world. "We're going to come out of the Lima meeting (of Non-Aligned nations) and the September Special Session of the United Nations with black eyes," says former Kennedy intimate Peter Kenen, now an economist at Princeton University. Most politicians and think-tankers of the Kennedy wing agree that the Third World has been lost; the only question left is, can Europe be saved?

A staffer at the Atlantic Council of the United States complained, "There is a growing accumulation of explosive material in Europe. This is a home truth that is pretty well known in Europe. Crises have to develop before anybody (in the U.S.) acts on these things. Take the Fall of Constantinople (in 1453). People were more concerned with counting the number of angels on a pinhead than worrying about the real world." Another think-tanker griped, "There is a paralysis setting in in Washington. People are only thrashing about."

This wing of the American bourgeoisie is generally aware that it has a limited number of weeks to dismantle the Rockefeller machine, or lose the rest of the world.

EUROPE'S ECONOMY IS SHATTERED

Aug. 13 (IPS) — Capitalists are now declaring war on industrial production, a policy by which they hope to maintain the book value of billions of dollars worth of outstanding debt without the benefit of a hyperinflationary transfusion. To understand the full social and political implication of their war cry, it is enough to review the current state of the Western European economy. The most intense concentration of industrial capacity and skilled labor power outside of Japan has already been stripped to the bone as a direct result of the collapse of world trade to date. That is an accomplished fact.

Across the continent workers are foregoing their summer vacations, for fear that they will return to locked factories. Rockefeller's current policy is a guarantee that that will be the case.

With productive output collapsing at a rate of 30 to 50 per cent, the nightmare of Brazil is creeping north from Southern Italy where epidemic diseases are already ravaging the workforce, 50 per cent of whom are condemned to housing which has been officially declared "decrepit." Today that nightmare of economic holocaust has extended itself even to the European industrial heartland in West Germany's Ruhr valley, where a process of mass lumpenization of the highly skilled workforce is well under way.

If Europe does not renounce the death grip of dollar debt, within the next three to six months, there will be no European economic sector to speak of. Locked factories will be the least of it.

Europe's Sick Men

In Britain and Italy, Europe's acknowledged Banana Republics, the destruction is visibly most advanced. In Italy it is feared that a majority — if not all — of the remaining textile plants will not reopen in September. The government has declared a state of emergency in this already hard hit sector, now producing at 50 per cent capacity. Fully one third of the nearly 1 million-strong textile workforce faces immediate unemployment. Pirelli, Italy's rubber giant, has to date laid off 10,000 of its 34,000 production workforce. In auto, Alfa Romeo has declared its response to the "September question" — the company's 18,000-man workforce has been notified that they are on indefinite "extended vacations." Total industrial output during the first six months of 1975 fell 13 per cent from comparable 1974 levels.

The effect of this level of collapse on living standards is compounded by unrelenting double-digit inflation. During the first quarter of 1975 the cost of living for Italians was fully 20 per cent higher than in the early 1974 heyday of inflationary looting. The Interministerial Commission on Prices has approved an 11.8 per cent increase in fertilizer prices as well as increases for gas and oil used domestically, the price of which is expected to double.

In Britain, where unemployment recently broke the 1 million mark, inflation is running at an official 26 per cent. With the props giving way beneath the debt-burdened nationalized sector, Undersecretary for Employment Frazer's announcement that the unemployment fund will last another three months is wildly optimistic. Already the Wilson government has publicly withdrawn all promises of job security for the steel and other nationalized industries. The giant British Steel Corporation has, meanwhile, eliminated all overtime payments — a de facto 30 per cent gouging of steelworkers' wages.

No one expects the inflation to subside. Current "projections" estimate that by October the cost of food will jump another 15 per cent, that on top of last year's rise of 23 per cent. Rents are expected to go up by 15 per cent in the same time.

The burial of the European economy is strikingly demonstrated in a brief look at bankruptcy statistics in the French sector. There bankruptcies have increased by 21.8 per cent during the first six months of the year, compared to 1974. In the month of June alone, 7,804 businesses closed their doors — more than three times the comparable figure for 1974. Significantly, the industrial sector has been hardest hit with a 39.2 per cent rise in bankruptcies led by the transportation, communications, construction, and public works industries.

West German Devastation

Those vital statistics in the broadest outline what is in store for the fall. The badly battered French steel industry has already slashed production by 20 per cent from 1974. With orders chopped up 40 per cent and stockpiles of inventories littering the continent, export prices have collapsed by upwards of 30 per cent. Again, current reports anticipating a 35 per cent decline in production by fall must be judged highly optimistic.

But it is in the pivotal West German sector that the seal is now being set on the hideous process of extinguishing European economic potential. There the continent's most highly skilled workforce is being brutally cannibalized, forced once again to live through the horrors of 1929-1937. The case of Dortmund, a heavy industry hub in the Ruhr, is exemplary. Twenty per cent of all families in Dortmund are presently subsisting at starvation levels, on family incomes of $90 or less. In a move to preserve the federal unemployment fund, the West German government has slashed 300,000 unemployed workers from the rolls; steps have been taken to force those remaining to accept jobs at 30 per cent less than their previous pay.

Even as the recycling apparatus is assembled unemployment continues to rise. Despite the streamlining of the unemployment rolls, the month of July shows 33,000 new unemployed for an official total of 1,035,000 jobless. The IFO-Institute, a capitalist economic think tank, however, speaks more frankly. IFO reports that 1.3 million are presently unemployed in West Germany, and has recently revised its projections upward. Previously asserting that unemployment would reach 1.5 million by early 1976, IFO predicts that that figure will be reached by fall — a 50 per cent increase in unemployment in a mere several months!

Its industrial machine overwhelmingly dependent on exports, West Germany reflects the worldwide economic collapse with devastating precision. Today all West German industry has an average of 2.7 months worth of orders on their books. In the first half of the year exports plunged by 13 per cent compared to 1974. The giant steel industry is operating at 60 per cent capacity with warehouses stuffed with unsold inventories. Production has already plummeted by 30 per cent in some areas. Twenty-five per cent of heavy-industry-allied construction industry's workforce is idle. Significantly the chemical industry, one of the last holdouts against the depression tailspin, has begun to give way: BASF, the West German chemical kingpin, is now producing at 50 per cent capacity.

LAROCHE IN NY: 'OUR JOB IS TO STOP THE DEPRESSION'

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 — "Our job is to stop the depression." U.S. Labor Party Presidential candidate Lyndon LaRouche told a crowd of over 500 persons at a campaign appearance here today. "Only we know how to stop it," said LaRouche in explaining how the International Development Bank has become the predominant policy of the developing sector.

LaRouche outlined the pace of events since his late April press conferences in Bonn, West Germany, and Milan Italy, where the IDB was announced. Since that time, not only have the developing countries adopted such a development policy, but the Comecon sector has accepted it, sections of industrial capitalists in Europe are in agreement with it, and last week French Communist Party chairman George Marchais pronounced an economic policy which was the formulation which the ICLC asked them to make in late April.

Because the Labor Committees understand how the world works, said LaRouche, we have developed the credibility among both the socialist sector and among certain capitalists so that our proposals for three-way trade and development agreements between the Comecon sector, the capitalist sector, and the developing countries have become accepted as the only policy which can stop the economic breakdown.

As background for these developments, LaRouche emphasized why the new "containment" policy against the Soviet bloc as recently formulated by George F. Kennan cannot work. The economic basis for containment has evaporated, as the system of international loans has collapsed. Furthermore, Rockefeller and Kissinger have demonstrated to the Soviet Union, in the Summer 1973 to April 1975 period, that they will exploit this policy to threaten fundamental Soviet strategic interests. "The Communist Parties will never go back," LaRouche emphasized. "There will never again be a Chile from the standpoint of Soviet and Comecon policy."

For the capitalist opponents of Rockefeller in the U.S., the issue is whether or not they will dump Rockefeller's debt. And then, "If you're going to have a debt moratorium, then you've got to do something about David Rockefeller, about Nelson Rockefeller; you've got to be ready to cage the Rockefellers." The opponents of Rockefeller know that they must cut back the National Security Council, the CIA, the FBI, or that they can be killed. These are the implications of the Kennedy assassinations, said LaRouche.

By the end of 1975, LaRouche stated, the majority of developing nations will have declared debt moratoria against the IMF, the World Bank, and the New York banks. The main victim will be the Rockefeller financial structure. But at least 50 per cent or more of U.S. productive capacity is dependent upon the developing countries; development and export agreements must be made to revive the productive forces in the U.S.

Summarizing the impact of the Labor Committees' ideas on world developments, LaRouche said that this could not be reversed even if the Rockefeller forces decided to crush us. The Communist Parties have changed course, the developing sector has taken our programs as its own policy. "If this Presidential campaign would cease to exist as of today, we have already changed history."

FRENCH CP CALLS FOR INTERNATIONAL SUPPORT OF PORTUGAL'S CP

Aug. 13 (IPS) — The Politburo of the French Communist Party (PCF), Aug. 11, issued a "solemn call to all workers of France and other countries" to "stop the arm of the assassins" who are presently assaulting the members and ransacking the offices of the Portuguese Communist Party (PCP) in Portugal's northern provinces. Simultaneously, dozens of PCF cells, sections and regional federations sent telegrams of support to the embattled Portuguese party.

The PCF call, which was affirmed two days later by its trade-union confederation, the CGT, will act to both mobilize international Communist and working-class forces in defense of the Portuguese revolution and to threaten French President Giscard d'Estaing with a revolutionary upsurge, should he commit himself further in support of Portugal's reactionary forces. Across Europe, the PCF call will give political focus to the mass strike developing throughout the continent.

For the first time in its history, the European Communist movement is beginning to unite to strike with one fist at the class enemy. Throughout Europe, Communist parties are already responding to the call: the Danish, East German, Italian parties, and sections of the West German parties have in one fashion or another expressed their support for the PCF's statement. One possible implication of the PCF's initiative for common action is that it will preempt the protracted discussions held in preparation for the East Berlin conference of European Communist parties, heretofore delayed by the participants' inability to resolve "strategic" differences.

Impetus for Action

In West Germany, while the Communist Party (DKP) itself has not printed or publicly supported the French Communist call, its youth organizations in especially the Hessen area have already taken to the streets to propagandize on behalf of the PCF's efforts and has called on other organizations to join the movement. In Denmark, the Communist Party has framed its support for the PCF with a united front offer to Danish social-democrats. "No return to the Cold War," says the CP, "we have to fight together against big capital."

In East Germany, the Communist Party's newspaper Neues Deutschland reports both the PCF proclamation and the splits which are now appearing within the French Socialist Party (PSF) under the impact of Portuguese developments. Pressured by this general motion, even the CIA-leadership of the Italian Communist Party (PCI) has been forced to cover itself. The PCI's newspaper, Unita, yesterday printed excerpts of the PCF's call, including reference to the international scope of the document. Elsewhere in the issue, the PCI leaders report that they are supporting the Portuguese Communist Party (PCP) because they have to, not because they want to.

In France itself, the PCF's call is designed to force its "unity of the left" coalition partners, and primarily the PSF, to adopt an active class position in defense of the PCP, which they have so far only nominally supported against the fascist attacks. By denouncing the leaders of the Portuguese Socialist Party "who gave the signal for the anti-Communist campaign...resorted to falsification" and alluded to "a supposed threat of Communist dictatorship," the PCF places the PSF — which officially backs the Portuguese Socialist war-mongers — in a very uncomfortable position. A PSF refusal to participate in the Communist campaign would not only result in loss of membership but also atomize the already faction-riddled Socialists.

Beyond the PSF, the PCF also "invites workers, French democrats of all opinions to rise in unison against the fascist threat in Portugal, for the safeguard of democracy. It addresses itself in particular to Christians, who will not accept, in the name of a religion which is theirs, that hatred and violence be preached to prepare a new horrible crime against humanity." This demand that French Catholics clearly condemn the fascist ravings and incitations to murder of Braga Bishop da Silva has already been answered positively by two major Catholic newspapers. Today's L'Humanite reports that in central France, priests are playing a leadership role in the formation of anti-fascist committees.

CUNHAL DECLARES COMMUNIST OFFENSIVE IN PORTUGAL

Aug. 17 (IPS)—The life or death struggle to determine who will rule in Portugal—the working class or the U.S. State Department—is now coming to a head. Portuguese Communist Party head Alvaro Cunhal, warned over 15,000 workers at a mass rally in Lisbon Aug. 14 that “the chief danger in this situation does not come from the fascists.” Instead, he stressed, “The major danger arises from the crisis of revolutionary power”—the lack of working-class control over the state, including the military.

The refusal of Portuguese fascists in alliance with the Portuguese Socialist Party to halt the fascist reign of terror, is provoking rank-and-file workers in the PSP to disobey their CIA agent leadership who are demanding that workers not form an anti-fascist united front with the Communists. Throughout the country, Committees for the Defense of the Revolution (CDR) are spreading rapidly taking the character of Soviets—a united front alliance between workers, farmers, and the military.

The necessity of the formation of CDRs is underlined by the current equivocation of the Armed Forces Movement (MFA). The MFA is beset by “serious difficulties and internal differences,” Cunhal explained to the assembled workers in Lisbon. This has given the fascists, under CIA direction, opportunities to organize counter-revolution.

“The question posed,” Cunhal declared, “is to know whether—yes or no—the Armed Forces are up to defending democratic order. Are they—yes or no—up to assuring the exercise of liberties and rights... defending the lives, security, and property of citizens... arresting and punishing the ones responsible for crimes?” The Communist Party is now taking up that challenge, although Cunhal expressed the PCP’s belief that the MFA will join to defend the revolution.

Within 48 hours after Cunhal’s address, the Portuguese National Radio broadcast reported that the country’s single trade union confederation, Intersindical—in which the PCP plays a leading role—called upon the government to distribute weapons to trade unionists to defend the nation from the CIA-led counter-revolution. In the south of Portugal, rural workers reiterated the Intersindical call.

Commanding over two million members, Intersindical is calling a brief but demonstrative nationwide general working class government. This Intersindical offensive occurs after CIA-deployed fascists stormed and burned trade-union offices in the northern sector of the country.

Simultaneously, the Communist Party is launching a well-defended organizing drive to re-take positions previously lost as a result of vacillation within the military. This week, PCP defense forces flanked Cunhal as he returned to a town in Alcobaca, the country’s central region. PCP organizers had been lynched in this town three weeks ago.

The Communist organizing drive into Alcobaca is a well-calculated thrust to extend its agrarian and related worker organizing into the wine-growing and orchard belt north and west of the Tagus River. It is the PCP’s agrarian organizing thrust into this region which provoked the first assaults led by landlords and Mario Soares’ PSP over a month ago. Political control of this critical region will determine the politics of military units situated there, a key “bridgehead” between conservative strongholds in the north and the critical, working-class held Lisbon region.

Cunhal’s visit to Oporto, planned for Aug. 19 signals the second PCP drive to retake lost territory. Consolidation of working-class strength in this key northern port city, Portugal’s second largest, will enable the PCP and its allies to isolate the nests of fascist reaction centered in Viseu and especially Catholic fascist Braga, until it is convenient for them to be mopped up. Nor, by itself, can the reactionary center in Castelo Branco create a center for counter-revolution. With the PCP driving into the Leiria-Santarean belt to which Alcobaca is adjacent, and with consolidation in Oporto, the working class will have consolidated a military position unassailable from within the country.

Immediately prior to the PCP organizing mobilization in the north, CIA Socialist Party leader Mario Soares had pathetically tried to outmatch the Communists with rallies in several cities earlier this week. On Tuesday in the rural city of Evora, Soares was only able to draw 500 bodies to “counter” a PCP rally of 20,000, which included many PSP militants. Later in the week, Soares pleaded “the grip” and refused to show his face at a rally in Lisbon.

In Lisbon Thursday, Cunhal addressed the crucial significance of the international working-class mobilization which has effectively neutralized NATO’s capacity for intervention. “All night,” said Cunhal, “We have received telegrams from municipalities, cells of communist and individuals. To our French comrades, to all our comrades in the battle throughout the world, to democrats and to anti-fascists who are with the Portuguese revolution, we express here our most profound gratitude.” At the mention of the French CP, the entire audience rose to applaud the PCF for its mass mobilization, chanting “PCF—PCF—PCF!” Fed by the Communist Party offensive in Portugal and mobilized around its defense, the growing European mass strike is a warning to capitalists that any attempt at violent interference in the PCP’s stride to power will lose them Europe as well.

INQUIRY URGENT: S. AFRICA INVADING ANGOLA VIA NAMIBIA

Aug. 13 (IPS) — South African troops invaded the Portuguese colony of Angola this morning, according to the French Communist Party daily, L'Humanite, quoting reports from the Lisbon daily Diario de Noticias. Moving through Namibia, a United Nations Trusteeship Territory neighboring Angola, the South African force has captured and is holding the access point to the Cunene Dam near Ruacana Falls in Southern Angola.

A United Nations Secretariat source in New York has confirmed the report to IPS, but would say only that "the question is under study."

U.S. Air Force Aids Zairean Murderers

The South African invasion follows yesterday's reports that the U.S. Air Force is illegally aiding Zairean Army personnel — disguised as members of the CIA's National Front for the Liberation of Angola (FNLA) — who invaded Angola over two weeks ago and have been murderously rampaging through the countryside since that time. Reporting on the recent visit of French President Giscard d'Estaing to Kinshasa in Zaire, yesterday's issue of the French weekly L'Express claims that "At Kinshasa airport, a remarkable sight: two four-engine jets of the...U.S. Air Force. A Kinshasa colleague indicates the planes with a sign of his head, saying 'Zairean infantry returning from Angola'."

A State Department source admitted today that the Air Force has flights to Kinshasa four times a week, but claimed that they were for delivering Armed Forces mail. The source also admitted that the troops attacking Angola were largely Zairean soldiers, and added that on-the-scene reports revealed that the invaders were using French armored personnel carriers.

The new developments add immediate urgency to the ICLC's call for a full United Nations investigation of CIA-directed genocide in Angola. In the last week, the UN, its member governments, many of the world's political parties and hundreds of libertarian and civil rights groups internationally have been handed the ICLC's documentation on a conspiracy including the CIA, the governments of Zaire, France and the People's Republic of China and Rockefeller interests in South Africa to wantonly destroy Angola's population and economy. These conspirators are the sole muscle — the arms, funds, training and men — behind FNLA, UNITA and FLEC, the three phony "liberation movements" in Angola which are currently attempting to massacre the pro-Soviet Popular Movement for the Liberation of Angola (MPLA) and destroy the whole country as a lesson to Africa's workers.

While several organizations and prominent individuals have supported the ICLC call (see article page 3), most African governments are still vacillating. However, several African UN Missions have agreed to meet with the ICLC on the subject later in the week.

Despite the fact that these governments have not yet joined the campaign necessary to stop the genocide, the military situation of the MPLA improved somewhat this week. Popular Movement forces are on the offensive and are outflanking Zairean-FNLA troops to the North of Angola's capital of Luanda, according to today's Washington Post. Other reports claim that pro-MPLA Portuguese Army forces still stationed in Luanda have "escorted" the remaining FNLA troops out of the city's fort of Sao Pedro — from which the FNLA had kept the country's only oil refinery shut down for a month by threatening to blow it up with weapons fire. Gasoline supplies in the capital had dwindled to nothing.

These successes, are, unfortunately, tenuous without an increased international mobilization to stop the invasion.

PORTUGUESE RIGHTISTS SABOTAGE MPLA FIGHT

Aug. 17 (IPS)—Heavy fighting continues throughout the Portuguese colony of Angola as units of the Popular Movement for the Liberation of Angola (MPLA) struggle to maintain their ports of re-supply. According to West German press reports, the pro-Soviet MPLA still strongly holds the railhead at Benguela and the large port at the capital of Luanda, while UPI reports tonight that MPLA has taken the key port city of Lobito from forces of the two CIA-controlled "Liberation Movements"—the FNLA and UNITA:

The FNLA-UNITA horde—which is still rampaging throughout the countryside, randomly destroying property and the population—is being replenished with Chinese and French arms and Zairean Army personnel by truck and plane from Zaire, according to the same West German sources.

The MPLA's supply problems were complicated this week by right-wing elements of the Portuguese Army stationed in Luanda, who this week began interfering with the aid being shipped to the MPLA from several socialist and Arab countries. On August 14, the right-wing Portuguese officer who is Temporary High Commissioner of the colony, Fereira do Macedo, announced that he was unilaterally taking "full executive power... in the absence of any effective rule from the Transitional Government." Rumors are spreading in the capital that, as part of this illegal move, Fereira do Macedo will try to disarm the MPLA's civilian militia in Luanda, organized to defend the city from threatened assaults by the FNLA-Zairean mercenaries.

The MPLA makes up the entirety of the Transitional Government since the staged walkout of the UNITA and FNLA representatives from the government several weeks ago.

Macedo's declaration was largely ignored in Angola, however. MPLA Politburo member Iko Carreira, speaking on August 15 in Algeria commented simply, "The MPLA will continue to govern, despite the defection of the other movements," according to the French daily Le Monde.

The MPLA's rejection of the absurd Macedo statement will probably be shortly backed by pro-communist elements of the Portuguese Army. Colonel Varela Gomes, the former second-in-command of the strongly pro-Communist Party Fifth Division of the Portuguese Army has volunteered to go to Angola with several Fifth Division officers. Gomes is a revolutionary organizer who was recently purged from the leadership of his Division by right wingers in Portugal.

Simultaneously, the MPLA has made several initiatives this week which underscore their complete ability to act as Angola's government. Speaking on the beginning of an international organizing tour this week, Carreira offered Angola's resources to the cause of development: "Independent Angola will know how to put her mineral resources, particularly petroleum, to the service of economic independence and to the service of creating a new economic world order."

Setting an example for New York City's workers, MPLA member Dr. Saydi Mingas, Angola's Finance Minister, suspended the directors of five private banks in Luanda on August 14, for "sabotaging the economy." One of the banks is half-owned by Rockefeller's First National City of New York, another by the British Standard and Chartered, according to yesterday's New York Times.

In addition, Reuters news service complains today that Angolan Information Director Luis d'Almeda threatened newsmen with "grave consequences" if they continue their "deliberate distortion of the news," correctly citing the false battle reports of BBC, UPI and Reuters. This Reuters report is subject to confirmation by reliable sources.

WHAT IS AT STAKE IN ANGOLA?

by Bob Dreyfuss

The bloody onslaught launched in Angola against the pro-socialist Popular Movement for the Liberation of Angola (MPLA) is a total war. The full resources of the corporate mining empire of southern Africa, backed by its NATO and Chinese allies, have been mobilized for a brutal showdown. An unholy alliance of CIA, British and Israeli Intelligence, South Africa's fascist stormtroopers, the living dead of bestialized Zaire, and Maoist agents from Peking has set into motion the dismemberment and scorched-earth destruction of an entire country.

The battle in Angola has already had an impact far beyond the borders of that Portuguese African colony. What is at stake is the growing motion of the pro-Soviet non-aligned movement of developing countries toward growth and development. The RAND Corporation scenario now being enacted in Angola — a genocidal orgy of systematic mass murder euphemistically described as a "civil war" — if successful, is meant to stand as a brutal object lesson to the Third World.

The Angolan "civil war" is Rockefeller's policy for the Third World. What the Rockefeller forces could not attempt in Portugal, in Iraq, in India, in Indochina, has begun in Angola. They must be stopped. By this desperate gamble in Africa, Rockefeller has provided the working class internationally with a matchless opportunity to annihilate once and for all, the remains of the Rockefeller cabal.

The blatant coordination in Angola of brainwashed zombie killers with respected African social psychologists, South African Nazis with Chinese Maoists, and polished CIA veterans of Vietnam with banking and mining executives, all in alliance against the MPLA, has ripped the cover off what, in other times, is more discretely hidden. The threat to Southern African "stability" that an MPLA victory in Angola would represent has forced Rockefeller to push all his chips to the center of the table.

The Labor Committees and our allies have called his bluff.

Southern Africa's Corporate Octopus

Politically and economically, the southern half of Africa is a coherent, integrated unit. National boundaries are entirely superfluous in an area where transportation and communication networks and power grids crisscross each other in a web of interdependence.

Taken as a whole, southern Africa contains what is probably the richest concentration of mineral resources in the world. Copper, gold, diamonds, iron, manganese, and a dozen other metals abound. Straddling this vast underground wealth is a huge octopus, the major multinational mining corporations, in an obscenely interlocking array of unreformed imperialists. The directorate of this mining empire, headed by the two giants, South Africa's sprawling Anglo-American Mining Corp., and the U.S.-based American Metal Climax, is the real supranational government of southern Africa.

Paralleling the mining interests is a vast security apparatus comprised of interfacing intelligence services and NATO, South African, Zairean (and, until recently, Portuguese) military. Regular coordination among these agencies has long been established as an accomplished fact.

As is the case in the Middle East with the oil company cartel, personnel from the intelligence agencies are virtually interchangeable with the staff and directors of southern Africa's mining concerns. Anglo-American Mining, for instance, owned by the Oppenheimer clan, recently hired Col. Percy Sillitoe, a top flight British Intelligence specialist, to direct its personal security forces for its vast diamond-mining operations.

The MPLA-led revolution in Angola, by virtue of southern Africa's interdependence, threatens not only to remove Angola's rich oil and mineral resources from the sphere of capitalist looting — but promises to tilt all of the region as well. An unmolested MPLA victory would ensure the implementation of the domino theory for all of southern Africa.

From the capitalist standpoint, the hegemony of the pro-socialist MPLA would have the following effects:

»In Angola itself, the oil, iron, and diamond resources would be wrenched out of the grasp of the Rockefeller-South African multinationals, and would be enlisted as bargaining counters in the negotiations for the ICLC's proposed International Development Bank.

»The extensive mineral deposits in neighboring countries — especially Zaire and Zambian copper — would be hostage, because of vital transportation routes, to Angolan and Mozambique pro-socialist governments.

»The arrival of a solid pro-working class regime in southern Africa, intent on mechanized agriculture and industrial development, could short-circuit the network of Maoist advocates of peasant slave labor in Tanzania, Zambia, and Zaire.

»The crushing foreign debt now held by banking consortia led by First National City Bank and the International Monetary Fund — World Bank for Zambia and Zaire, already near default, would be pushed over the brink into worthlessness. Several million dollars in "profitable" looting instruments — government bonds, including those floated to finance the phony nationalization of copper companies — would become wastepaper, bankrupting in chain reaction the entire Rockefeller financial empire.

»Finally, the overtly pro-Nazi South African regime would find itself surrounded. The South African colony of Namibia would be first to fall.

In rapid sequence, the South African government would be forced to implement real reforms to raise the black and white workers' standard of living — or face revolution at home.

Capitalist Strategy

Briefly, the capitalists' answer to the MPLA is two-pronged. By backing patched-together "liberation" countergangs like Gulf Oil's FLEC in Cabinda, they plan to Balkanize Angola: splitting off Cabinda with its oil fields in the north while salvaging the south, with its strategic railway, as a buffer for South Africa. In the central portion, the Zairean army and the FNLA (Front for the National Liberation of Angola) are slated to wreak genocide and destruction.

The recent "common cause" announced between the FNLA and the CIA-South African-backed UNITA (National Union for the Total Independence of Angola, initially created by the Portuguese secret police) may signal a possible alternate scenario: a joint FNLA-UNITA "unilateral declaration of independence" before the scheduled Nov. 11 independence, possibly naming Novo Lisboa as the "capital" in place of MPLA-controlled Luanda. Such a scenario was mooted in the April 1975 issue of Foreign Affairs by Kenneth Adelman, published by David Rockefeller's Council on Foreign Relations.

FNLA, UNITA, and the two oily FLEC's (Front for the Liberation of the Enclave of Cabinda), one backed by Gulf Oil Corp. and one by the French ELF petroleum, are the "hands and feet" operatives of the Rockefeller-Oppenhheimer clique in Angola. Together with 5,000 to 10,000 Zairean troops and South African military advisers, according to informed sources, these four liberation organizations constitute the anti-MPLA side of the Angolan "civil war."

"Yeah, they all cooperate with (Zairean President) Mobutu," said a State Department Africa specialist casually this week, referring to corporate support for the FNLA and Zaire. "You can lump the corporations all together."

In battling the combined forces of Rockefeller, Oppenheimer, and Chairman Mao, the MPLA is also challenging the vicious controlled environment of African politics as programmed by the Tavistock Institute. Perhaps the MPLA's greatest success is defeating not Joseph Mobutu's mercenaries but the hideous ideology imposed on Africa by colonial thought-police.

Countergangs War in Africa

The full impact of Tavistock Institute-funded Reesian counterinsurgency, so effective in backward Africa among superstitious tribal and village society, was felt in Angola first in 1961.

The 1961 catastrophe hit Angola when the country and the region was seized by a mass strike wave. Neighboring Zaire (then Congo) was caught up in a bloody CIA-provoked civil war in the aftermath of the assassination of pro-Soviet Congo President Patrice Lumumba. In South Africa, the fascist Verwoerd government was coping with unrest and economic instability following the Sharpeville massacre. In Angola, years of patient organizing by MPLA cadre, including many former members of the Angolan and Portuguese Communist Party, began to pay off. Growing MPLA hegemony with peasant and worker ferment sparked by the wave of nationalism that swept Africa with independence from the colonial powers. Only Portugal held out — preserved by NATO to keep southern Africa "stable."

Beginning in March 1961 and for several months afterward, Angola was engulfed in a hideous wave of terror and counterterror, in which 30,000 Angolans were massacred. A "revolt" in Angola's north by decorticated FNLA zombies touched off the bloodbath. Documented testimony from those involved, including ex-FNLA commanders, proves that this initial "armed struggle" by FNLA had no more aim than to justify the monstrous Portuguese reprisals that followed.

Under direct orders from tribal mystic Holden Roberto, then and still head of FNLA, white and black Angolan civilians were murdered and mutilated in a frenzy of bloodlust. Following this provocation, an unprecedented genocidal wave of insanity crused the Angolan mass strike.

The NATO-armed Portuguese military mobilized white settler militias and jointly hunted down and butchered tens of thousands of black civilians. Directed by PICE-DGS (secret police), teams set grass fires to herd villagers as helicopter crews machine-gunned them from above. Crazed white mobs beheaded, lynched, and tore to pieces hundreds of blacks. Meanwhile, the entire educated elite of Angola's black population was systematically murdered, most likely by PIDE squads.

By June 1961, the whole north of Angola was virtually depopulated. Over 215,000 Angolan refugees fled to western Congo (Zaire). In the cities, in the north, in Luanda, the MPLA's cadre had been ruthlessly destroyed.

Numerous observers reported that FNLA troops aided the Portuguese in hunting the MPLA.

The survival and growth of MPLA after 1961, the reestablishment of its northern bases, the opening of an eastern front through Zambia in the mid-1960s, and its present hegemony in the country resulted from MPLA's careful organizing combined with FNLA's complete self-discrediting. Like the emergence of the Communists after over 40 years of fascist rule in Portugal under similar brainwashing conditions, the MPLA organization consolidated political power in Angola after the 1974 coup by ruthless self-discipline and courage — qualities lacking in its mercenary opponents.

The CIA and its Nazi Doctors Build FNLA

The counterinsurgent capability that triggered the FNLA's "uprising" in March 1961 was the result of careful blending of covert CIA and State Department support for "molding" Holden Roberto; application of techniques of brainwashing, drug control, and "cultural anthropology" by the U.S. Defense Department and British and Israeli Intelligence; and the "countergang" method developed by Brig. Frank Kitson.

Welded together, these methods are precisely the same used by CIA-FBI-LEAA network in the U.S. for creating urban race riots. Whether in Angola in 1961 or 1975, or Newark or Detroit in 1967, the method is the same, and the criminals responsible are the same.—Nelson Rockefeller and the RAND Corporation.

Desperate to "save" Angola from the MPLA, Rockefeller has exposed his hideous race-war techniques to the gaze of the working class. Throughout the United States, U.S. Labor Party organizers are applying the litmus test of Angola to black organizations — to destroy the "black nationalist" zombie gangs and their CIA liberation-minded supporters.

Holden Roberto, founder-leader of the FNLA and brother-in-law of CIA-installed Zairean President Joseph Mobutu, was apparently selected and recruited by the CIA and PIDE in 1957. At that time, Roberto was a leading member of the mystical Toco fanatics among the Kongo tribes of the north. Disciples of "messianic" Simao Toco, these religious nuts were deployed by the Portuguese secret police systematically to "organize" the backward Kongo tribesmen to halt the spreading influence of the MPLA. Each night, the zombie members of the Toco sect returned to confinement in Luanda jails, only to leave each morning for jobs.

Roberto soon emerged as the leader of an amorphous movement of Tocoists and others for the resurrection of the Kongo Kingdom, and actually petitioned the UN to that effect in 1958.

That year Roberto was selected by the CIA. With the help of the CIA and its front, the American Committee on Africa (ACOA), Roberto was shuttled to Accra, Ghana, for the First All-African People's Congress. In Ghana, Roberto underwent a transformation. Three key CIA men worked him over: ACOA's Rev. George Hauser, who argued that it might be "difficult to obtain external support" for a program whose main plank was a revived Kongo Kingdom, and Roberto became an Angolan nationalist; George Padmore, author of "Pan-Africanism or Communism," who convinced Roberto of the efficacy of the former and the evils of the latter; and, above all, Frantz Fanon, black psychiatrist, brainwasher, and advocate of the existentialist "cleansing power" of raw violence.

Roberto's transformation was complete. Money from Gulf, American Metal Climax, and Anglo-American Corp. poured in. The CIA and MI-5 supplied laundered weapons. Bernard Manhertz, a CIA-connected American officer with experience in Vietnam, was hired to direct Roberto's army. Carlos Kessell, a Cuban anti-Castro "gusano," with direct links to the CIA's ICFTU and the agent-ridden Tunisian trade union movement was flown to Congo to build Roberto's working-class front. The new government of Congo (Zaire) gladly provided sanctuary to Roberto's hordes and allowed FNLA free access to the squalid refugee camps in Congo. Hundreds of Angolan refugees fleeing Portuguese genocide in 1961 were captured and brainwashed by FNLA as conscripts. These unfortunate zombies — since 1961! — have performed no other function than random assassination and terror against the MPLA in northern Angola.

FNLA are cannibals. This, in itself, is clinical proof of brainwashing, for such bestial behavior is entirely unnatural. MPLA cadre last month, entering towns evacuated by FNLA hordes, found human bones in barrels of rice and human hearts and livers in refrigerators! According to knowledgeable African sources, witchcraft and cannibalism play a key role in the control ideology of FNLA's Kongo warriors. "If they eat human flesh," he said, "they think it will make them stronger and better in battle."

The hideous FNLA operation is only a small piece in a fabric of CIA-Tavistock-type zombie armies and local-control nationalists throughout the world. Britain's Irish Republican Army, Newark's Imamu Baraka gangs, Arab and Jewish terror organizations in the Middle East, and so forth are cousins to Holden's cannibals. At the head of this monster is John Rawlings Rees, architect of Rockefeller fascism and former (now dead) boss of the London-based brainwashing center, the Tavistock Institute.

Africa is particularly infested with disciples of Rees — and their handiwork. Unspeakably brutal tribal wars, vicious dictators like Uganda's Idi Amin, voodoo and witchcraft elevated to national cult, and a pervasive paranoia against "outsiders," are some of the by-products of Rees' Nazi doctor network in Africa. This terrifying reality is what forces honest but cowardly African humanists to despair of modernizing Africa, and tolerate butchers like Mobutu or Amin in shameful silence. Only a few speak out — those who have internalized the knowledge that Reesian warfare is not invincible. To do this, one must know that the bestial Africa reflects not the inside of the "African mind," but the tortured fantasies of Nelson Rockefeller and John Rees.

Rees and his personal conduit, the World Federation of Mental Health, organized a series of conferences in Africa in the late 1950s. Appropriately the first Rees-UFMH cabal meeting was held in the Congo in 1958. Present and accounted for were fellow Reesian witch doctors Nathan Kline, a voodoo expert and veteran of Papa Doc Duvalier's Haiti; Thomas Lambo, a Nigerian psychiatrist and author of "Cultural Factors in Paranoid Psychosis Among the Yoruba Tribe," the study that set guidelines for Anglo-American manipulation of the late 1960s Biafra war between Ibos and Yorubas that left two million dead; and Simon Biesheuvel, director of Harry Oppenheimer's South African Institute for Personnel Relations. Blatant racist Biesheuvel's works include "the Effect of Diet on Test Performance of African Mine Laborers."

Rockefeller's psycho-cabal led by the above-named brainwashers profiled Africa for tactics and strategy of control and manipulation. Capitalizing on and then nourishing the slave mentality, and generally making use of every possible backward tribal idiosyncrasy, the Reesian witch doctors established the African "reality" of today: psychological terror backed by overwhelming physical force.

Across a continent on which pro-development forces are beginning to challenge this Reesian "reality," an MPLA victory in Angola would shake loose the fence-sitters and destroy the controlled environment for good.

In concert with Rees' witch doctors, black madman Frantz Fanon played an essential role in "organizing" Africa for the CIA. Fanon's religious addiction to violence infected a dozen Arab and African movements, poisoning Algeria, Ghana, Angola, the Congo, etc. with fascist mumbo-jumbo.

"At a time when scarcely anyone in the State Department had a strong interest in African affairs," writes R. Harris Smith in his book OSS: The Secret History of America's First CIA, "it was the CIA that maintained close and friendly ties with such African radicals as Frantz Fanon, now a hero of the American New Left... The CIA's ostensible purpose was to build the foundation for far more effective covert support of the Third World non-Communist Left — men like Holden Roberto and Tom Mboya."

On that "foundation" speaks Roberto agent N'gola Kabangu of FNLA, in August 1975: "Our fight consists of totally liberating Angola. So long as there is one communist agent in the country, we will continue the battle. We regret destroying a beautiful city like Luanda, but we'll do it if necessary."

Allied with Roberto's Chinese-armed anti-communist cannibals is a second CIA front, Jonas Savimbi's UNITA. Savimbi, also a Maoist who proposes to "let the superpowers confront each other," portrays his tiny band of agents as a Third Force in Angola which seeks an "accommodation with the multinationals." Not surprising: the multis, like AMAX and Anglo-American, have bought Savimbi lock, stock and barrel!

Savimbi's UNITA reportedly grew phenominally in the past 16 months from several hundred to 8000 "troops." A spokesman for the notorious CIA-controlled African-American Institute, a Rockefeller-Oppenheimer front once headed by American Metal Climax chairman Harold K. Hochschild, explained the mystery: AAI and UNITA jointly set up "training programs" in Angola, he claimed, right after the April 1974, Portuguese coup, to build UNITA as a credible force.

Until 1974, UNITA received overt Portuguese and South African support, including air drops of supplies to UNITA forces in Angola's south. According to informed sources, Savimbi paid a clandestine visit to South Africa in July 1975 and likely already receives arms and advisors from South Africa's military. Most UNITA troops are ex-Portuguese army recruits.

Their Surpanational Regime — and Ours

Dominating the governments of Zaire and Zambia, controlling most of South Africa, backing FNLA, UNITA and FLEC (both species), and coordinating CIA — MI-5 — Shin Beth operations is the Rockefeller-Oppenheimer supergovernment: southern Africa's mining companies. The accompanying chart presents the overview of this interlocked group.

An African specialist at a leading New York bank with heavy involvement in Angola and Zaire accurately described the CIA-Zaire-China alliance behind FNLA. "Angola is potentially the richest country in Africa from any standpoint — gold, diamonds, oil copper," he continued, "Yes, we've got an office there. We have a pretty good exposure, but I'm not supposed to say how much. You know, every industry, the whole country."

The oil companies, he added, are involved indirectly. "They're being used as a funnel for government money."

The challenge to MPLA and to the world's working class is clear. A programmatic attack on the rapacious Rockefeller multinationals and allied interests must be launched at once. Who loots southern Africa? Who funds cannibals and assassins? Who stands in the way of industrialization and development? For the MPLA, fighting for survival, the lines of attack are sharply drawn. For those organizations, parties, and governments who still pretend to remain "neutral" toward the MPLA's struggle, its time to get off the fence. Critical to the establishment of the southern Africa sector of the International Development Bank is a rapid MPLA victory in Angola.

COLOMBIAN TRADE OFFICIAL
CALLS FOR EXPANDED EAST-WEST TRADE
FORMATION OF SOCIALIST CONSULTING GROUPS

BOGOTA, AUG. 13 (IPS)—THE EX-DIRECTOR OF THE VIENNA BRANCH OF THE COLOMBIAN TRADE OFFICE HAS MADE A MAJOR PUSH FOR EXPANSION OF TRADE BETWEEN COLOMBIA AND THE SOCIALIST BLOC AND CALLING FOR THE FORMATION OF A SOCIALIST CONSULTING GROUP TO BE SUPERVISED BY COMECON'S INTERNATIONAL INVESTMENT BANK.

WRITING IN NUEVA FRONTERA, WEEKLY MAGAZINE RUN BY EX-PRESIDENT CARLOS LLERAS RESTROPE, JULIO ESCOBAR FERNANDEZ DE SOTO CITED COLOMBIA AS A "PIONEER" OF TRADE WITH SOCIALIST COUNTRIES AND OUTLINED THE NUMEROUS ADVANTAGES OF FURTHER TRADE WITH THEM. FERNANDEZ EXPLAINED THAT COLOMBIA'S CAPACITY FOR DEBT PAYMENT WAS LIMITED "BUT ITS NECESSITIES FOR MATERIAL AND SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT COULD BE CONSIDERED...UNLIMITED...THERE IS A FUNDAMENTAL DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE TWO TYPES OF CREDIT — THAT OFFERED BY THE WEST AND THAT WHICH CAN BE OBTAINED FROM THE SOCIALIST COUNTRIES."

FERNANDEZ EMPHASIZED THAT CREDITS FROM THE EASTERN BLOC, UNLIKE LOANS FROM AGENCIES LIKE THE WORLD BANK, WOULD NOT COMPROMISE COLOMBIA'S FOREIGN RESERVES. MANY OF THE DEVELOPMENT PROJECTS RECENTLY APPROVED BY THE WORLD BANK CONSULTING GROUP COULD EASILY BE CARRIED OUT WITH FINANCING FROM THE SOCIALIST COUNTRIES, FERNANDEZ SAID.

MR. FERNANDEZ REPORTED THAT ON HIS VISITS TO MOSCOW, HE HAD DISCUSSED THE POSSIBILITY OF FORMING A SOCIALIST CONSULTING GROUP. "THE SOCIALIST BANKERS RESPONDED WITH ENTHUSIASM AND TOLD ME THAT THEY WERE ONLY WAITING FOR OUR GOVERNMENT TO MAKE A CONCRETE PROPOSAL."

MAS JOINS VENEZUELAN POLICE IN NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL CAMPAIGN AGAINST LALC

CARACAS, AUG. 13 (IPS)—LATIN AMERICAN LABOR COMMITTEE (LALC) ORGANIZERS IN CARACAS, VENEZUELA LEARNED THIS WEEK OF FURTHER COLLABORATION BY THE MAOIST MOVIMIENTO AL SOCIALISMO (MAS) IN THE CAMPAIGN OF HARASSMENT, SURVEILLANCE AND DIRTY TRICKS DIRECTED BY THE U.S. NATIONAL SECURITY AGENCY AND CIA AGAINST THE LALC LOCAL. LALC LEARNED THAT THE MAS MEMBERS PRESSURED THE OWNER OF THE BUILDING OF THE LALC OFFICE TO EVICT THE LOCAL FROM ITS OFFICE. IN THE PAST, THE MAS AND ITS POLYCENTRIST ALLIES IN THE RIGHTWING OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY OF VENEZUELA (PCV) HAVE THREATENED TO DESTROY THE OFFICE. SHORTLY THEREAFTER, THE PCV NEWSPAPER TRIBUNA POPULAR PUBLISHED THE ADDRESS OF THE OFFICE IN THE JUNE 17 ISSUE.

LALC WARNED IN A PRESS RELEASE ON AUG. 1 THAT THE U.S. NATIONAL SECURITY AGENCY HAD ISSUED ORDERS FOR AN INTENSIFIED CAMPAIGN OF HEAVY HARASSMENT CARRIED OUT BY THE DIRECCION DE INTELIGENCIA Y SERVICIOS PREVENTIDOS (DISIP) AND OTHER VENEZUELAN POLICE AGENCIES, AND WHICH INCLUDED TAPPING OF THE LALC TELEPHONES. THE STEPPED-UP POLICE CAMPAIGN WAS NECESSITATED WHEN THE PCV DROPPED ITS SLANDER CAMPAIGN AGAINST THE LALC, THUS WEAKENING THE CIA'S PREVIOUS POLICY OF CONTAINING LALC INFLUENCE THROUGH ATTACKS BY THE LEFT. THE MAS AND THE RIGHTWING OF THE PCV, HOWEVER, HAVE BECOME INCREASINGLY DESPERATE AS THE PRO-SOVIET MEMBERS OF THE PCV HAVE MOVED TO SHARPLY ATTACK THE INTERNATIONALLY COMBINED OPERATIONS OF THE CIA AND INTERNATIONAL MAOISM. THIS DESPERATION IS NO DOUBT RESPONSIBLE FOR THE NOW-OPEN WORKING ALLIANCE BETWEEN THE MAS AND THE VENEZUELAN POLICE AGENCIES.

GILBREATH WAS AMONG A GROUP OF PL GOONS WHO ATTACKED A GROUP OF LABOR PARTY ORGANIZERS AT THE HIGHLAND PARK SEARS STORE. GILBREATH ALSO STOLE MRS. GETTLE'S CAMERA. A PLP WITNESS TRIED TO TESTIFY THAT 14 LABOR PARTY MEMBERS HAD "SWOOPED DOWN" ON THE PLP MAOISTS, BUT THE PROSECUTOR RESPONDED "COME ON, YOU DON'T EXPECT US TO BELIEVE THAT; YOU NEVER EVEN FILED A POLICE COMPLAINT."

WHEN LABOR PARTY CANDIDATE FOR U.S. SENATE FROM MICHIGAN, PETER SIGNORELLI, TESTIFIED IN THE CASE, MAOISTS WERE SEEN TAKING DOWN HIS HOME ADDRESS, AND AFTER THE TRIAL THREATENED SIGNORELLI.

A NUMBER OF PLP WITNESSES DID NOT APPEAR, WITH THE REASON GIVEN THAT THEY ARE PRESENTLY IN BOSTON. THIS WOULD MAKE THEM SUBJECT TO PROSECUTION UNDER THE SO-CALLED RAP BROWN LAW, FOR CROSSING INTERSTATE LINES TO CAUSE A RIOT, SINCE PL DUPES AND

LEAA THUGS ATTACK STATE LEGISLATURE
IN ESCALATION OF RIOT SCENARIO

BOSTON, AUG. 14 (IPS)--THE LEAA TODAY ESCALATED ITS EFFORTS TO STAGE A RACE RIOT IN THIS CITY AS A COVER FOR A SCHOOL SHUTDOWN AND ENFORCEMENT OF GENOCIDAL CUTS IN THE STATE WELFARE BUDGET. AS PART OF THIS SCENARIO, HUNDREDS OF THUGS AND GOONS HAVE BEEN DEPLOYED TO BOSTON FOR USE IN ATTACKS ON CITY COUNCILMEN AND STATE LEGISLATORS TO PREVENT THEM FROM GOING ALONG WITH THE DEBT MORATORIUM.

IN THIS LATEST ESCALATION, A GROUP OF LEAA ZOMBIES TODAY INVADDED THE MASSACHUSETTS STATE HOUSE AND ATTACKED SEVERAL STATE LEGISLATORS AND AT LEAST SIX TO EIGHT LEGISLATORS SUFFERED SERIOUS INJURY, INCLUDING BROKEN RIBS AND SPLIT LIPS.

THE ATTACKERS HAVE BEEN PRELIMINARILY IDENTIFIED AS MEMBERS OF THE "PEOPLE FOR ECONOMIC SURVIVAL," A COUNTERGANG OPERATION IN THE NORTHAMPTON, MASS. AREA.

A RELIABLE SOURCE REVEALED THAT THE GROUP IS COMPOSED ALMOST ENTIRELY OF UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS STUDENTS IN FRONT GROUPS OF THE LEAA/FBI-CONTROLLED REVOLUTIONARY UNION.

ONE MONTH AGO, THE PROGRESSIVE LABOR PARTY, ANOTHER POLICE-CONTROLLED MAOIST SECT, STAGED A SIMILAR ATTACK ON THE BOSTON CITY COUNCIL. THE COUNCIL CANCELLED ITS SCHEDULED AUGUST 18 MEETING AFTER PL ANNOUNCED ITS PLANS FOR ANOTHER "DEMONSTRATION."

TO FURTHER BUILD THE RACE RIOT SITUATION, BOSTON MAYOR KEVIN WHITE TODAY DECLARED THAT HE HAS LAUNCHED A CAMPAIGN AGAINST "OUTSIDE AGITATORS." PL AND OTHER COUNTERGANGS HAVE PLAYED A PROMINENT PART IN THE RECENT STAGED BRAWLS THAT HAVE THUS FAR FAILED TO TRIGGER A FULL SCALE RIOT. APPROXIMATELY, 30 ADDITIONAL PL'ERS ARRIVED HERE TODAY FROM DETROIT AND ELSEWHERE TO REINFORCE THE LEAA'S DEPLOYABLE TROOPS.

THE LEAA/FBI ORDERED ATTACK TODAY IS AIMED AT PREVENTING SUPPORT FOR BOSTON CITY COUNCILMAN ALBERT O'NEILL'S RESOLUTION FOR A DEBT MORATORIUM FROM SPREADING TO THE LEGISLATURE. FOLLOWING THE MASSACHUSETTS STATE ASSEMBLY VOTE ON TUESDAY TO THROW 18,000 PEOPLE OFF THE GENERAL RELIEF ROLLS, MANY WELFARE GROUPS BEGAN TO MOVE TOWARDS THE DEBT MORATORIUM. ALLAN STONEY, OF THE STATEWIDE "COALITION AGAINST CUTBACKS" ENDORSED THE DEBT MORATORIUM AND SEVERAL OTHER GROUPS WERE ABOUT TO FOLLOW SUIT WHEN TODAY'S ATTACK OCCURRED.

IPS 8.14/7

IN A MOVE OBVIOUSLY COORDINATED TO COINCIDE WITH THE ATTACK, TODAY'S BOSTON GLOBE RAN A MAJOR SLANDER ATTACK ON COUNCILMAN O'NEILL FOLLOWING A JOINT PRESS CONFERENCE YESTERDAY WITH U.S. LABOR PARTY. THE PIECE CALLED O'NEILL A TOOL OF THE USLP AND IS DESIGNED TO WRECK HIS RE-ELECTION CAMPAIGN. O'NEILL ANNOUNCED PLANS TO RESUME HEARINGS ON THE DEBT MORATORIUM RESOLUTION ON AUGUST 29. THE PRESS CONFERENCE ALSO EXPOSED THE ROLE OF PL IN LEAA RACE RIOT SCENARIO.

THE LABOR PARTY IS CALLING FOR AN IMMEDIATE INVESTIGATION INTO THE ROLE OF LEAA OPERATIVE AND BOSTON POLICE CHIEF ROBERT DI GRAZIA IN THE LATEST ATTACK AND IN THE IMPORTATION OF LEAA THUGS INTO THE CITY. DI GRAZIA IS CLEARLY COORDINATING THEIR DEPLOYMENT.

USLP SUPPORTERS HAVE MAPPED OUT A CAMPAIGN OF NATIONAL SUPPORT FOR O'NEILL, THE CAMPAIGN WILL BE DIRECTED THROUGH CALLS TO HIM AT 617-772-4100.

IN FACT, AP NOTES, SYRIA IS CONSIDERING FURTHER REDUCTIONS OF THE FLOW OF THE EUPHRATES RIVER TO IRAQ, THREE MILLION OF WHOSE PEASANTS HAVE BEEN DRIVEN TO NEAR-STARVATION BY PREVIOUS SUCH SABOTAGE. THESE REDUCTIONS WOULD SIGNIFY AN ABROGATION OF PREVIOUSLY SIGNED TREATIES, AP REMARKS.

IN AN ARTICLE IN PSYCHOLOGY TODAY. "AFTER A CHORUS SINGS, THE HIGH PRIEST PROCLAIMS, 'OUR FUNERAL PYRE AWAITS THE CORPSE OF CARE', BUT CARE IS NOT READY TO BURN. HE RISES FROM THE BIER AND CRIES, 'FOOLS! FOOLS! FOOLS! "THE LEADERSHIP OF THE MPLA IS TROUBLED," SAID CARREIRA, "OVER THE ATTITUDE OF FRANCE IN REGARDS TO THE FNLA AND THE FUTURE OF THE ENCLAVE OF CABINDA. IT IS DIFFICULT TO THINK THAT FRANCE, AS CERTAIN RUMORS REPORT, COULD ENCOURAGE AN ATTEMPT AT SECESSION IN ANGOLA TO SAFEGUARD THEIR ECONOMIC AND STRATEGIC INTERESTS. INDEPENDENT ANGOLA WILL KNOW HOW TO PUT HER MINERAL RESOURCES AND PARTICULARLY PETROLEUM TO THE SERVICE OF ECONOMIC INDEPENDENCE AND TO THE SERVICE OF THE ARRIVAL OF THE NEW WORLD ECONOMIC ORDER WHICH GISCARD TALKS ABOUT."

VORWAERTS ALSO PUBLISHED SPD PARLIAMENTARIAN ALFRED ZOELLER'S REPLY TO VOGEL. ZOELLER STATED THAT THE DECISION OF THE COURT "IS ALL THE MORE SUSPECT BECAUSE FOR 20 YEARS THERE HAS BEEN NO SERIOUS CHALLENGE TO THE FACT THAT A GREAT NUMBER OF OUR PUBLIC SERVICE OFFICIALS WERE FORMER MEMBERS OF THE NAZI PARTY OR OTHER NAZI ORGANIZATIONS. IN FBI CUSTODY ARE ALMOST CERTAINLY BY NOW BRAINWASH VICTIMS.

THE FACT THAT LYNCH AND BYRN HAVE CITIZENSHIP IN IRELAND AS WELL AS THE U.S. MAY INDICATE THE U.S. INTELLIGENCE AGENCIES PLANNED TO USE THE BRONFMAN KIDNAPPING AS A LAUNCHING PAD FOR INTERNATIONAL TERRORIST OPERATIONS INVOLVING THE IRA, WHICH IS UNDER CIA-BRITISH INTELLIGENCE CONTROL.

AUG. 18 (IPS) -- SIR DONALD MAITLAND, BRITAIN'S AMBASSADOR DESIGNATE TO THE EEC, HAS SIGNED IN A PRIVATE CAPACITY A REPORT WHICH IN THE WORDS OF THE LONDON FINANCIAL TIMES, CALLS FOR "MAJOR CHANGES IN THE WORLD ECONOMIC SYSTEM IN FAVOR OF THE DEVELOPING COUNTRIES." THE REPORT, WHICH IS CURRENTLY BEING CONSIDERED BY THE BRITISH CABINET IN PREPARATION FOR THE MEETING OF COMMONWEALTH FINANCE MINISTERS IN GEORGETOWN, GUYANA AUG. 26, COULD MAKE A BREAK-THROUGH IN WESTERN SUPPORT FOR THIRD WORLD DEVELOPMENT. COMMENTS THE FINANCIAL TIMES: "ALTHOUGH MUCH OF THE LANGUAGE OF THE REPORT IS ALREADY FAMILIAR WITHIN THE THIRD WORLD, ITS POTENTIAL SIGNIFICANCE LIES IN THE FACT THAT THIS IS THE FIRST TIME IT HAS COME CLOSE TO ACCEPTANCE BY A DEVELOPED COUNTRY SUCH AS BRITAIN." TREASURY DEBT FINANCING WILL GUT SAVINGS BANKS

AUG. 18 (IPS) — RISING INTEREST RATES RESULTING FROM THE U.S. TREASURY'S MASSIVE DEBT-REFINANCING HAVE BEGUN TO SUCK DESPERATELY-NEEDED FUNDS OUT OF THE NATION'S SAVINGS INSTITUTIONS. DURING JULY, THE INFLOW OF DEPOSITS INTO NEW YORK SAVINGS BANKS DROPPED SHARPLY AND THE BANKS NOW EXPECT A DEPOSIT OUTFLOW THIS FALL, AN IPS SURVEY OF SAVINGS BANKS REVEALS. THE DRAIN FROM SAVINGS INSTITUTIONS THREATENS TO FURTHER COLLAPSE THE MORTGAGE LOAN MARKET — AS SAVINGS BANKS SIMPLY WILL NOT HAVE THE FUNDS TO LEND TO HOME-BUYERS.

WORKING CLASS SAVINGS WILL SOON BE JEOPARDIZED WHEN THE MASSIVE OUTFLOW OF FUNDS CAUSES THESE BANKS TO FOLD.

END OF LATE IPS, 8/18/75.
