

intervention and told the military to stay out of politics. Demirel also clipped Turkes's wings — though some observers feel not enough. He removed the Coordination Council for Security Affairs from Turkes and placed it under the Interior Ministry controlled by Necmettin Erbakan of the National Salvation Party. Demirel also formed a subcommittee, composed of members of his and Erbakan's party to work find solutions to the unrest.

Karamanlis Moves To Mop Up Interpol Terrorists In Greece

By ordering the raid and arrest of members of the extensive "August 4th" fascist network last week in Athens Greek Prime Minister Constantine Karamanlis has begun to break up Interpol's terrorist apparatus within his country. In going after the terrorists, Karamanlis is finally exacting revenge on the same Rockefeller-run network of Nazi sympathizers who were used against his government in the 1950s. Since World War II, this network of fascists — who helped coordinate the overthrow of the George Papandreou government in the 1960s — enjoyed special CIA protection and remained out of range of police actions.

Karamanlis' action coincides with similar crackdowns by Italian Prime Minister Giulio Andreotti and Cypriot President Makarios and is designed to thwart plans by Interpol to unleash the "Die Spinne" groups against anti-Wall Street political forces in Europe and the Third World.

Last week, under direct orders from Karamanlis and the Greek Attorney General, the offices of "August 4th" were unexpectedly raided by two Athens district attorneys, who subsequently exposed the connections of the organization with other terrorist gangs, as well as with active and retired army and police officers. The attorneys revealed that the group is composed of 1000 members who are organized in "hit squads" which, among other operations, were involved in last December's bloody riots in Athens during the funeral of the assassinated former police official Evangelos Mallios. Photographs of all members of the organization were seized during the raid and will be given to the victims terrorized by the group for identification. The attorneys also confiscated a significant number of bombs, explosives, and propagandistic material found in the offices.

Significantly, the agent-infested security police refused to take part in the raid and arrests. Following the raid, several "August 4" members have been indicted on various charges, while the Greek press reports that the Athens district attorney's office has gathered important information to be used for the prosecution of all fascist groups.

Karamanlis' preemptive strike against the Die Spinne apparatus was made with the backing of Great Britain, with whom Karamanlis maintains close ties. As one of Europe's driving forces against the continuation of dollar hegemony, Britain is lending critical support for Karamanlis, who, pressured by the deteriorating Greek economy, is making tentative but significant steps toward closer collaboration with the Socialist bloc, Western Europe and the Arab states, as well as toward facilitating a Cyprus settlement. Karamanlis has received full backing from the Greek Communist Party to "dismantle the invisible government."