

U.S. Labor Party Executive Statement

Dump The Jewish Lobby For Mideast Peace

It has come down to a choice between the psychotic Jewish Lobby or the survival of the U.S.

Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin — the Britain-hater whom the British wrap around their little finger — announced today that the genocidal Israeli raid into Lebanon is over. Over, that is, except for the six-mile strip across southern Lebanon which the Israeli army intends to occupy until they have “assurances” of Israeli security. Over, especially for the unknown hundreds of men, women, and children who were massacred by Israeli airraids on Palestinian refugee camps, and carried away in gunny sacks to be buried in mass graves.

Begin’s announcement confirms that Israel was indeed carrying out its murderous, psychotic blitz on a British leash that stopped them just short of an invasion of Syria and the precipitation of World War III. The question, as it was at Sarajevo in 1914, is: will the leash hold?

THE BRITISH PLAN

The British plan went into effect sometime last Friday or Saturday before the Al Fatah attack on Israel. That attack was an exact rerun of Hitler’s 1939 Polish operation — a deliberate setup, to perpetrate terror, to justify the preplanned Israeli Anschluss into Lebanon.

preplanned Israeli Anschluss into Lebanon.

The goal of the Israeli atrocity was threefold: 1) systematic mass extermination of the Palestine population and their leadership in the Palestine Liberation Organization; 2) an escalation of international terrorism by so-called Palestinian terrorists run by British Intelligence; and 3) the destruction of developing political agreements between the United States, Europe and OPEC nations toward support of the dollar based on high-technology, economic development programs.

The first of these operations, under cover of nauseating Jewish hypocrisy over the murder of one of their children to every hundred Palestinian infants, has already made considerable headway. The second is inevitable once Israel’s butchery is publicized. The third has been announced blatantly in the editorial pages of the New York Times and London’s Guardian today, as well as from the mouth of London agent-of-influence G. William Miller at the U.S. Federal Reserve. Cut oil imports and impose wage and price controls on the U.S., goes the line. Put the U.S. under the heel of the International Monetary Fund.

It is obvious to every banker sitting in London, and to not a few investment and commercial bankers in the U.S., that these “fiscal conservative” measures to “save the dollar” will send the whole world into the hellhole of genocide and disease which Britain has created in all of her colonies. It is equally obvious that the Israeli blitzkrieg in Lebanon calls into question the relationship of Saudi Arabia, the financial bankers of the PLO, with a United States that condones the genocidal activity of its client state. Having failed to pry the Saudis and Europe away from collaboration with the technological giant, the United States, the British have moved against the vulnerability of Europe and the U.S. in the Middle East. The financial destruction of the U.S. they failed to accomplish by persuasion and assassination, they now plan to accomplish with genocide and regional war.

THE JEWISH LOBBY

It is by no means clear that the Israelis will stop where they’re told. The Syrians have already taken limited action to stop the butchery in Lebanon. If the Israelis take any action against Syrian bases in Syria, they will immediately bring Syria’s military ally, the Soviet Union into the confrontation. Unless the U.S. joins the Soviets in bringing Israel under control, that means one thing only: World War III.

So far the U.S. Administration has been paralyzed, supine before the “Jewish Lobby,” has turned its back on the butchery of Lebanese and Palestinians for 20 years, while self-righteously bleating over the death of each innocent Israeli. What kind of morality is it that raises cries of outrage every time an Israeli civilian falls victim to terror, and bellows and belches in smug contentment every time hundreds of thousands of Lebanese or Palestinians are butchered? If the U.S. government had followed the lead of the Jewish Lobby with Henry Kissinger and Henry Jackson at its head, Israel, and more, would have been obliterated a long time ago.

To Americans, unlike the psychotic Menachem Begin, genocide is morally repugnant. The U.S. cannot endorse genocide under any pretext. Carter must be freed from the Jewish Lobby, and their frontman Brzezinski.

While Henry Kissinger is leading the Republican National Committee around by the nose and Sen. Henry Jackson is scooping out dung in the names of the Democratic Party leadership, the majority of American businessmen, trade unionists, and scientists have rejected the brinkmanship of the Jewish Lobby. It is this majority which must get its message through to Jimmy Carter and those elements of the U.S. Administration who want to avoid World War III.

SUPPORT THE LABOR PARTY

The Labor Party has a plan for Middle East peace, a plan already being widely discussed in U.S. and foreign government, scientific, and industrial circles, a plan totally technically and politically feasible. The core of this plan is joint economic development for Israel and the Arab countries based on nuclear and agricultural projects financed by U.S., European and Soviet credits and technological input. Israel has to do nothing but recognize the PLO and withdraw to her recognized borders, and peace, progress, and security will be hers.

If she won't do it voluntarily, the U.S. and Soviets must impose it in the world's interest.

The U.S. Labor Party program is the only one that will work. Right now Carter is being insulated from this program by Brzezinski, Schlesinger, and Blumenthal. To shake him loose, your voice must be heard.

Declare your support for the Labor Party Mideast program. Announce you agree with the Labor Party's demand to oust British agents Brzezinski, Schlesinger, and Blumenthal. Speak out for the Labor Party and America. It's the psychotic Jewish Lobby or the U.S.

An American Policy For The Middle East

An Israeli-PLO Accord At Geneva

The United States of America must immediately join with the Soviet Union in a joint effort to reconvene the Middle East peace talks at Geneva in order to prevent the ongoing serious deterioration of the Palestine conflict from sliding toward general war. President Carter and Secretary of State Vance should announce that the national interest of the United States fundamentally requires that a peace settlement be imposed with utmost urgency, and that the Egypt-Israel bilateral talks have failed.

The situation demands that the Administration be brutal. The President must seek a national consensus behind the policies outlined below, and make use of the enormous weight of Presidential prestige to rally American public opinion. The posturing of loud-mouthed Congressmen and the broken-record braying of the Israel Lobby should be branded, not so subtly, for what it is: Treason. And the leading upholders of the inglorious Lord Balfour tradition in the American Cabinet, James Schlesinger and Michael Blumenthal, must be made to join the ranks of the unemployed.

The President must read the riot act to Israel. No dramatic ultimatums will be necessary; but a firmly delivered statement to the Israelis — that their childish and hypocritical policy must change, and change radically — will be effective if it is coupled with an unequivocal refusal to underwrite Israeli military adventurism. Israel is an American client state, and should be treated as such. Under such circumstances, the despicable irresponsibility shown by virtually the entire Israeli leadership will come to an end, and a responsible group of leaders will emerge to bring Israel peace.

The terms of a Middle East settlement are quite simple. Israel must be compelled to come to an agreement with the Palestine Liberation Organization on a permanent division of historic Palestine into two states, one Jewish and one Arab. Such an arrangement would be endorsed without hesitation by the Arab world, and would bring about a stable set of peace treaties between Israel and its neighbors. The responsibility of the United States, together with its Western partners and the USSR, is to underwrite the political agreement with a package of economic development credits, capital, and technology.

There is no alternative to such a policy. To fail to act in such a manner is to give the City of London and Henry Kissinger a license to murder peace in the Middle East. President Sadat, Prime Minister Begin, and PLO Chairman Yasser Arafat have proved themselves incapable of negotiating a settlement alone. In the best interests of the parties concerned, Washington and Moscow should impose a solution — ruthlessly ignoring squawks of protest from Israel and from irredentist Palestinians.

AMERICAN NATIONAL INTEREST

There is no question that a permanent peace in the Middle East is a matter of the most urgent national interest. First, in strategic terms, the security of the Middle East is intimately related to a stable East-West balance in global terms, and any attempt to shift that strategic balance unilaterally by confrontation in the Middle East is certain to plunge the world into thermonuclear holocaust. The anti-Soviet "step-by-step" diplomacy of Henry Kissinger, which was aimed at expelling Soviet influence from the Arab world and the Persian Gulf, and which is the guiding philosophy of Zbigniew Brzezinski, is a suicidal game of chicken.

Second, for the next ten years, the oil-producing nations of the Persian Gulf, particularly Saudi Arabia, will be the sole available source of petroleum for an expanding world economy. Until advanced forms of nuclear power, including fusion energy, can be brought on line, the industrial might of the Western world must depend on Saudi Arabia. That fact, which is unchallengeable, makes political stability in the area imperative.

A stable Middle East will free the Arab states to develop healthy economic ties to both the Western industrial and Comecon sectors, and long-term oil-for-technology arrangements between OPEC and the industrial world will replace the shaky and uncertain price and supply relationships that now prevail. The Arab surplus petrodollars will be made available to help finance a vast
