

New Openings In Italy's Moro Case

Simultaneous with the formation three weeks ago of a special Parliamentary Commission of Inquiry to investigate the assassination of former Italian premier and president of the Christian Democratic Party, Aldo Moro, security service officers in charge of the case are actively following up the "international links" of the Red Brigades into West Germany and Egypt. The officers have established that clues leading to an international network of terrorists were known to the Interior Ministry two days after Moro was kidnapped. The clues were found by the police in the headquarters and logistics center of the operation against Moro in via Gradoli, Rome. The paper of the Italian Communist Party, L'Unità, and Italy's paper of record Corriere della Sera gave broad coverage of this new development in the Moro case:

L'Unità, Aug. 10:

Behind the assassination of Aldo Moro there is a plot that goes beyond our borders. The suspicion is old...but now the investigators are sure: they are not working on a hypothesis but on concrete elements already gathered. Two judges working on the case — Ferdinando Imposimato and Rosario Priore — have gone to Wiesbaden (West Germany) to collect (more evidence)....Some of the decisive evidence was collected in the Rome apartment of via Gradoli, considered to be the Red Brigade operational center for the Moro kidnapping. Among the many mistakes committed around the via Gradoli hideout, there is one that is most disconcerting: once the base was discovered March 18 (two days after the kidnapping — ed.) the deputy attorney general directing the investigation at the time ordered that all the material be confiscated and taken to the offices of Criminalpol (the Italian branch of Interpol — ed.) where it was "frozen" for many weeks....A qualitative shift in the investigation is expected in light of the new evidence....

Corriere della Sera, Aug. 13:

Rome has already asked for an official meeting with Cairo's attorney general, Ibrahim El Kaliubi. Late last April some 20 terrorists were arrested in Cairo, among them four Europeans charged with belonging to a terrorist central command center which links up with the Red Brigades and the Red Army fraction (the Baader-Meinhof — ed.)...There are talks about imminent arrests....Following cooperation requested from the West German police and magistrature...the judges want to personally check the (Cairo) clue....

The judges were very surprised to learn that less than 48 hours after Moro's kidnapping a clear clue had reached the chief of police (regarding the via Gradoli hideout — ed.)....On March 18 the police went to via Gradoli but only knocked at the door.

These networks are allowed to remain in place and operate with freedom through contamination of the official police apparatus. Indicative is the Hesselbach network, already cited, which conduits the funding for Cohn-Bendit's operation. The link-up in this case runs through the von Opel family, a band of drug-runners who are family friends of Hesselbach. Frauline von Opel is a close friend of both Cohn-Bendit and Rudi Dutschke.

Hesselbach is chairman of the Administrative Council of the Deutsche Bundespost, and the leading conduit for terrorism against the European Labor Party. He is a member of the Jerusalem Foundation, although according to the Foundation's West German director Hesselbach is not listed in the official rolls of the organization because he is so personally exposed as to endanger the position of the Foundation itself. The Jerusalem Foundation in turn is one of the leading international Jewish terror arms of the London-based Knights of Malta.

Recently, intelligence sources in Italy provided this newsservice with evidence linking Israeli intelligence and Zionist circles to the "black nobility" of Europe in the terrorist command. The evidence, which has already been substantially corroborated by this magazine and by western intelligence services, centers around a Romanian Jew, George Mandel (alias Mantello) in the employ of Prince Umberto of Savoy. Mandel is reportedly a partner in a dummy firm in Switzerland named Cappocetto which launders money from the Israeli labor organization Histadrut into both overt terrorist operations and B'nai B'rith organizations in Europe and North America. Among Mandel's closest collaborators in this effort are Dr. Erlich, who heads the Basel quarters of B'nai B'rith, and J.P. Bloch, a Paris-based Rothschild family agent who runs the LICA. The LICA is a Zionist organization which, in its capacity as a subsidiary of the Jerusalem Foundation, has been behind a recent campaign of slanders and violence against the European Labor Party.

It was Mandel who safely smuggled out of the U.S. and into Italy one Colonel Shaw, who was involved in the Kennedy assassination. This was accomplished through the good offices of the Bank of Montreal, a bank operated by the Canadian machine of Edgar Bronfman, himself a member of the Jerusalem Foundation and a Knight of Malta with the closest historical ties to the British Montefiore-Samuel family, founders of Royal Dutch Shell, and a dozen
