

Ayn Rand Institute

Yaron Brook, president and executive director of the Ayn Rand Institute, said that the only way to defeat "Islamic totalitarian states" is "to kill hundreds of thousands of their supporters."

Theory defines rules that undercut, inhibit, and subvert any hope of success in war."

Brook's co-author in this diatribe was Alex Epstein, who is a junior fellow at the ARI; he also works on the staff of David Horowitz's frontpagemagazine.com.

Horowitz, who once worked for Bertrand Russell, is another supporter of using nuclear weapons to kill large numbers of Muslims. When confronted by LaRouche Youth Movement (LYM) members during a speech at the University of California, Santa Barbara, Horowitz defended Truman's use of nuclear weapons, and added that the United States should use nuclear weapons against Iran.

Another member of the ARI genocide team is Prof. John Lewis, who is scheduled to appear at an ARI-sponsored event with Brook in Boston Oct. 20-22. An article by Lewis appeared in Capitalism Magazine in the April 2006 issue, titled "The Moral Lesson of Hiroshima." Lewis argues that the effects of the nuclear bombs detonated on Hiroshima and Nagasaki "were so beneficent, so wide-ranging and so long-term, that the bombings must be ranked among the most moral acts ever committed"!

Presenting the Randian justification for a neo-con strike against Iran, North Korea, et al., he concludes, "It took a country that values this world to bomb this [Japanese imperial] system into extinction.

"For the Americans to do so while refusing to sacrifice their own troops to save the lives of enemy civilians was a sublimely moral action."

Also appearing at the Boston conference will be Brook's close collaborator, Daniel Pipes. In addition to the role he plays as one of the leading neo-con promoters of the Clash of Civilization, Pipes was a founder of Campus Watch.

The ARI produced a supplemental issue of its Impact newsletter in September 2002, titled "America at War." This included an article by Dr. Onkar Ghate, "Innocents in War?" with the subhead, "A Free Nation Should Not Let the Fear of Causing Civilian Casualties Hinder Its Self-Defense." Okhate wrote that "our government's concern—shared by many Americans—about killing civilians is morally mistaken." He

LaRouche Youth: We Will Brook No Fascists

When fascist Yaron Brook arrived at his first speaking engagement at the Tufts University extravaganza planned for the weekend of Oct. 20-22, where he was scheduled to put forward his genocidal plan to deal with "Islamic Totalitarianism," the LaRouche Youth Movement (LYM) was ready for him. The campus had been saturated with over 3,000 copies of the LPAC pamphlet "Is Joseph Goebbels on Your Campus?" and LYM members were well situated within the 150-person audience.

The LYM did not wait for Brook to finish his rant. In its midst one called out: Isn't it true that at UCLA you said you wanted to kill thousands of Muslims? When Brooks refused to answer and continued, the LYM member addressed the audience: Can't you understand that this is fascism?

Typical of today's "go along to get along" culture, the audience defended Brook, even as the LYM member was removed. The situation called for more demonstrative action.

LYM member Alex Getachew took the lead. He stood up and gave Brook the Hitler salute, yelling "Heil, Yaron Brook," and began goose-stepping around the room. Seven more LYM organizers followed him, demonstrating to the audience exactly what most of them were supporting.

But this was only the beginning. A number of LYM members remained behind to challenge Brook, who had claimed that he didn't even know David Horowitz, one of the key campaigners for purging the campuses. As Brook tried to defend himself, and Horowitz's Campus Watch, he got totally twisted up—and exposed as a liar, as well as a genocidalist.
