

LaRouche: Remove Obama, and Free Russia from the Brits

by Nancy Spannaus

March 15—Radical changes are imminent, argued Lyndon LaRouche in his March 13 international webcast, entitled “The Ides of March 2010.” Within the very short term, we can expect President Obama to leave office, most likely as a result of a visit from leading institutional figures who will deliver a message very much like that delivered to Richard Nixon in 1974: It’s time to go, or else. That change will facilitate the other major shift that must occur in the immediate period ahead—the freeing of the Russian government from its virtual imprisonment by the British financier oligarchy, epitomized by the Rothschild Inter-Alpha Group and its agents in Russia, including, most emphatically, Mikhail Gorbachov.

LaRouche’s 90-minute opening presentation, began with a dramatic prologue, in which he likened the immediate changes ahead to the shift which occurred in the wake of the bombing of Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941. Contributing to those changes, he said, will be the revelations which he would make during the webcast itself, revelations of events in which LaRouche himself participated, which shaped world history, and the situation we face today. Those revelations centered on the warfare between LaRouche and other patriotic Americans, on the one side, and the British Inter-Alpha Group on the other, around the Strategic Defense Initiative, the idea created by LaRouche, which provided the potential to break the world out of British geopolitical controls, in the 1980s.

The British won that round, and still largely control the Russian state, LaRouche argued. This control must be broken, because Russia, with the United States, represents a crucial part of the Four Power combination that must lead the world out of its current devolution into a New Dark Age.

At the conclusion of his opening remarks, LaRouche outlined the remedies at hand, stressing the necessity for a global Glass-Steagall wipeout of fictitious debt, and the establishment of a new fixed-exchange-rate treaty agreement, which would permit the launching of vast new infrastructure projects in the areas of power, transportation, and water development. Under such a system, a cultural shift will also follow, with an emphasis once more on the unity of science, creativity, production, and progress.

But none of it will happen without getting rid of Obama, he concluded. And that must happen now!

Replace this President!

“Nothing will save this Presidency, in this present form: And the sooner he’s gone, the better,” LaRouche said at the outset. “The mere fact that he’s still President on any given day, is a catastrophe, which will mean catastrophes that people will suffer.”

Harkening back to the Nixon resignation in August 1974, LaRouche noted that what Nixon, the President who presided over the burial of the Bretton Woods System, represented then, was the same thing that Obama represents today—the British imperial system. That’s the problem with Obama. “He’s controlled by foreign influaware of Zbigniew Brzezinski's strategy, during the Carter Administration, for a nuclear attack on the Soviet Union, LaRouche both exposed it, in his 1976 Presidential campaign, and then devised a policy to prevent it, the policy of ballistic missile defense, which became known as the Strategic Defense Initiative (SDI). LaRouche collaborated with a section of the U.S. intelligence community, while also organizing leading forces in France, Germany, Italy, and South America to support his policy.

But, while Reagan adopted LaRouche's policy on March 23, 1983, the Soviets eventually rejected it. The primary reason? The British.

The mass-strike mood of the American people has already dictated that Obama must go, LaRouche declared. Kesha Rogers' victory in Texas is, so far, the most dramatic evidence of that mass strike. Rogers is pictured here with LaRouche, at the webcast.

ences which are our enemy. . . . Therefore, his presence in the White House is destroying the United States!"

The mass-strike mood of the American people has already dictated that this President must go, LaRouche said. Sixty to seventy percent of the American people have contempt for him, and hatred of the Congress. And the way that Obama can be removed, is the way Nixon was convinced to resign—by a group of grim, determined people convincing him that he has to go. The President is only a symptom of the disease, but if we don't get rid of him, that disease, the British disease, will kill us.

The British Gameplan

The British illness goes all the way back to the founding of the Empire, in 1763. "It's a system of financial usury, which controls the nations of the world, and that's what it is today. The British Empire is runing the world . . . through international financial power; imperial financial power, the control of the system, through the breaking of our system—and also through wars, as they did with the Kennedy case, with 1968 events, and so forth."

LaRouche then honed in on the period of 1976 to 1986, a period of hand-to-hand conflict between him, and the British imperial strategy. Having been made

British-Controlled Soviet Traitors

LaRouche then dropped his bombshell: Yuri Andropov, who rejected the SDI, and Mikhail Gorbachov, who confirmed that rejection, were British agents! They were controlled by powerful British forces, centered in the Inter-Alpha Group of banks, which was established by Lord Jacob Rothschild in 1971, and which is the center of the financial bubble today. And those traitorous forces still are "controlling key positions in Russia today, and are the key impediment to saving Russia, from the destruction which threatens to hit Russia today. . . ."

In a nutshell, the United States, currently controlled by a British puppet, and Russia, are being destroyed by a common adversary—the British Empire's frontman, the Inter-Alpha Group.

As LaRouche put it:

"Remember, the United States economic system was crashed in August of 1971. In August of 1971, the British Empire, operating through a group headed by Jacob Rothschild, and others, created what is called [the Inter-Alpha Group], today. They are the controlling force, today; they are actually rotten, and they're about to crash. This is the center of the bubble, which is about to pop! And when this bubble pops, unless we have an alternative policy in place, the whole world's going to go down with it, like the New Dark Age. That's where the problem lies.

"Russia, China, and India, have a vital common interests, in fact, with the United States, with nations in continental Europe, and others, in revising a new system of cooperation, to get the world economy out of this crisis, largely a nuclear-power driven, transportation-driven, infrastructure program. Which can be done, it can be financed, and it can work, and it can end this depression. This is the impediment! And the influence of this element, like a pack of traitors, inside the Russian system, is the secret to the problem. That is the technical point, that's the point of attack: That's what you must destroy! That's the enemy. Don't pick on everybody you don't like: Pick on an enemy to destroy. Pick on the right enemy, and don't attack anybody else. Destroy that enemy. That's the enemy!"

Now, to the Remedy

In the final section of his opening remarks, LaRouche outlined the remedies—especially in terms of the major infrastructure programs which must begin immediately. He took as a case study, the case of rebuilding Haiti.

Haiti is about to be devastated with a wave of disease, more deadly than the earthquake itself, he said. What the U.S. has to do is restore the use of the military Corps of Engineers, to initiate a comprehensive reconstruction program in Haiti. Take youth from the United States, and from Haiti, and employ them as an engineering force, which will give them a mission orientation, and a future.

LaRouche then touched on other crucial aspects of the program. Bankrupt the British system, by implementing the Glass-Steagall system. "Glass-Steagall is the soul of the U.S. Constitution," he said, "an expression of the soul. Without a fixed-exchange-rate system, internationally, you can not develop cheap credit that you require internationally, for building up this planet, and rebuilding the United States."

Then you create an international system, using a Glass-Steagall standard, "and just wiping off the books, all the fake money, all the speculative money!"

Face the Truth

The following summary encapsulates LaRouche's core argument:

"But we have to understand the truth: Where did we go wrong? It should be shocking to anyone who thinks about it. Here we are, all this time, all this talk about 'Soviet' this, and so forth, which is what we were sort of raised in, since about the time I was born! I was born in 1922! Guess what the Soviet issue has been, since 1922?

"We lived in a world in which that was the big issue. And now we turn around, and find that the key powers inside the Soviet Union itself, working for the British Empire, as traitors to Russia, were actually running many of these operations which we thought were the Soviet operations: The British were running them! We were allied with the British, who were running the Soviets! As today. Our old enemy, the British. That's our problem.

"That's why we got Obama.

"We have to understand that we as a nation, were created as a unique phenomenon on this planet, at a time when Europe had failed to realize what had been made possible, by the great accomplishments of the 15th Century: the discovery of science, the launching of science in the 15th Century; the launching of Classical art in the 15th Century; and then, again, the progress which was made by the Peace of Westphalia—again, betrayed.

"We, in the United States, from Europe, came to this territory, to build up a nation, based on the objectives of these great reforms in Europe, but which Europeans had been incapable to defend and maintain. So what we brought here, was the contribution of the best of European civilization. It started effectively in Massachusetts and activated, seeding things in this, and other parts of the country, as in Virginia and Pennsylvania and so forth. We created the United States, as a unique expression of a distillation of what had been good in European civilization! And adapt it to other parts of the world, with the same view, of a cultural revolution of that type.

"We destroyed that, then, largely through Wall Street and British influence. And today, we're about to lose everything, to lose civilization, to lose the human race. And the problem of the Obama Administration, is that it is the embodiment of the corruption by which we are destroying ourselves. Let Obama go where he wishes to. Let him live in peace.

"But don't have him in the White House! Get him out of there...."
