

LaRouche Candidates Lead Drive for Return to FDR Policies

by The Editors

July 20—With a sense of urgency defined by LaRouche’s forecast of a new financial meltdown, if Obama is not removed by some time in September, the national campaigns of Congressional candidates Kesha Rogers, Rachel Brown, and Summer Shields have taken off the gloves, exposing their opponents as fronting for Obama and his fascist policies. The three LaRouche Democrats are hitting the streets, and going door-to-door, with the message that the implementation of FDR’s Glass-Steagall banking principle, and the removal of Obama, are the indispensable tasks to be accomplished this Summer, if the nation is to survive.

In each of the campaign areas—San Francisco, Houston, and Boston—the population’s response reflects a growing disillusionment with the President, whose policies on the economy, NASA, and the war in Afghanistan represent a full-scale assault on the welfare of the people. Even those who have previously gone into paroxysms of hysteria over LaRouche PAC’s famous Obama-stache poster, often now have to admit that the President’s policies are fascist—even though they still don’t like the truth to be told.

Challenge To Join Impeachment Drive

On July 8, Kesha Rogers, the Democratic candidate for the Texas 22nd C.D., issued an open letter to her GOP opponent, Pete Olson, demanding that he join her in calling for the impeachment of Obama. The district is home to NASA’s Johnson Space Center, which is scheduled for major cutbacks, in light of Obama’s declared intention to de-fund manned space flight. Olson, while on record against the NASA cuts, has been sticking to business-as-usual, as the President goes ahead with illegal cuts in contracts and jobs.

“Unless you’re willing to force Obama out of office, and reinstate Glass-Steagall, you’re just not serious about saving NASA’s manned space program,” Rogers declared.

“My campaign has been built on the necessity of impeaching Obama in order to save NASA, but as recently as two days ago, you reiterated your defense of Obama, saying there’s no cause to impeach him.

“Representative Olson, under Obama’s policies, we are now losing the technical capabilities to make scientific advancements; we are now laying off the most highly skilled engineers, manufacturers, and scientists in the country. . . . The unemployment of these workers will transform whole communities into ghost towns. . . .

“Why are you still trying to negotiate with a Nero personality, whose stated intentions, and now actions, are to illegally shut down the greatest of American scientific achievements, and bankrupt our nation? The American people recognize that Obama is actively destroying their future, and that is why there is massive grassroots support, in my campaign for his impeachment. The American people recognize Obama's blank check to Wall Street and the City of London, while simultaneously forcing austerity on the people, is literally killing them, and that is why there is widespread, bipartisan support, in my campaign to reinstate FDR's 1933 Glass-Steagall Act. The American people recognize that any serious economic recovery on Earth requires going to the Moon and Mars.

"Therefore, I am calling on you to join with me, in demanding Obama's immediate resignation or impeachment, as the first step to solving the economic crisis...."

This Frank Ain't Kosher

LaRouche Democrat Rachel Brown, running in the Sept. 14 Massachusetts Democratic primary for Congress against Rep. "Bailout Barney" Frank, has already landed a devastating blow against her opponent, by exposing his outright lies about his stance on Glass-Steagall. Frank, who claimed in a debate with Brown, that he voted against the repeal, was caught on the Congressional record lavishly praising the revocation of the FDR-era protection.

Brown followed up July 9 with a direct appeal to Barney, telling him that if he is anywhere near as smart as he thinks he is, he will join her in demanding just such action. Brown's statement, entitled "The Summer of Our Discontent: Bring Back Glass-Steagall!" read, in part:

"As millions in the United States are left without unemployment benefits, U.S. states and municipalities are making drastic budget cuts, laying off thousands of necessary workers. . . .

"The Obama Administration, with full support from Bailout Barney Frank, is not only refusing this policy, they are consciously misleading the population, asserting Glass-Steagall to be unnecessary, while they, instead, flood the system with Monopoly money. The trillions of dollars being given by the government to bailout worthless London-Wall Street derivative obligations, is now being placed on the back of the citizens. This must stop. The reinstatement of Glass-Steagall would allow us to wipe these derivatives obligations off the books, and free banks to lend money for useful purposes, especially under an international fixed-exchange rate system, is to protect the long-term value of the investments....

"This is why we fought the American Revolution. It is the right of a sovereign nation to put the interests of its citizens over the interests of a monetary-financial empire.

"Bailout Barney, if you think you're so smart, you'll listen to me on this."

Pelosi Supports Peterson's Fascism

On July 8, LaRouche Democrat Summer Shields, an official write-in candidate against Majority Leader Nancy Pelosi, blasted the California Democrat for promoting the fascist policy of billionaire austerity-monger Pete Peterson. That policy is currently being pushed by Obama's National Commission on Fiscal Responsibility and Reform (see p. 17), which has been mandated by the President to come up with massive cuts in entitlements for the poor, aged, and sick, in order to "cut the deficit."

Shields said: "The Obama Administration, after tearing down the U.S. economy, is now demanding a pound of flesh from you. Last week, Nancy Pelosi, acting as a henchman for Wall Street and London, bullied the Democratic members of Congress to vote for a budget that included a provision forcing the U.S. Congress to give an up or down vote to policy 'suggestions' made by the fascist Peterson Commission. Some are saying that this kind of strong-arm tactic has earned her the title 'Tom DeLay in a dress;' the reality is that she deserves a Hitler mustache just like Obama.

"Among the other policy recommendations coming from this commission, is the decision to cut Social Security and reduce deficit expenditures to 21% of GDP. Voting these policies into law would mean bone-crushing austerity and death for U.S. citizens as the world economy careens into the abyss...."
