

mitted the desperation of the U.S. move in support of Cambodia. "I know that Cambodia is following a Dark Ages policy," he said in an interview, "but we support Cambodia because we are against the Vietnamese coming in . . . I know this is ridiculous, but we are doing it."

The Chinese have no intention of being duped, like the U.S., into supporting the criminal Phnom Penh regime — the losing side in the Cambodian civil war. A UPI story of a recent speech by Hua Kuo-Feng to military and foreign ministry officials reports China's policy: "It is necessary to draw the U.S. onto our side in order to concentrate all of our forces on the main enemy (the USSR—ed.). It is necessary to cause a split between the two superpowers (the U.S. and USSR—ed.) in order to smash them."

As of now, it is Peking's client in Phnom Penh that is being smashed, along with U.S. prestige. The KNUFNS, with the support of Vietnam, is quickly cutting off key roads to Phnom Penh. According to military observers, their plan is to weaken the regime by cutting supplies to the capital while making the rate of capture of population centers correspond to their ability to organize indigenous support for the liberation forces. KNUFNS reports the population is rallying to its side. The fall of the Phnom Penh regime is seen as only a matter of time.

Who has been protecting Mark Lane?

In an apparent dramatic reversal of its own findings of just two weeks ago, the House Assassination Panel issued its official report last weekend, opening up the probability that both John F. Kennedy and Martin Luther King were assassinated as the result of conspiracies.

Up until recently, panel statements had indicated the intention to rubber-stamp the "lone assassin" findings of the Warren Commission. The shift away from the Warren Commission's "lone assassin" findings mediated through an 11th hour appearance by acoustics experts rehashing 15-year-old evidence, should cause knowledgeable persons to react as if a skunk were dropped into the middle of a crowded room: it stinks.

The unburying of the facts of the House Assassination Panel's present coverup in published material by U.S. Labor Party Chairman LaRouche and in the recently published Dope, Inc. has created an immediate climate in which endorsement of the "lone assassin" theory represented just too outrageous a fraud to attempt. Hence the House panel opted for a fallback coverup that has been in place since 1964. That coverup, and the recent findings of the panel were authored by the assassins of Kennedy and King — by their hired pen Mark Lane.

Permindex, Kennedy and King

The Kennedy and King assassinations were ordered by the faction of the British oligarchy that is planning a New Dark Age to stop the march of human progress, and were executed by that faction's international assassination bureau, housed in the Montreal-based Permindex. Since the 1950s Permindex has functioned as the political control and money-laundering agency for a ring of assassins that intersected with the Nazi International, the Israeli Mossad, and organized crime.

The New Orleans headquarters of Permindex's subsidiary World Trade Mart was run by Col. Clay Shaw, a former British Office of Strategic Services operative who worked in conjunction with FBI Division Five and the Office of Naval Intelligence in deploying Lee Harvey Oswald. Clay

Shaw met with James Earl Ray on several occasions during the week before King's murder.

The Lane coverup

Mark Lane, a low-level agent of Air Force Intelligence and FBI Division Five during the 1950s, was deployed from November 1963 as an employee of Permindex operating under the immediate supervision of Lord Bertrand Russell to bury all trails of evidence leading to Permindex and the British New Dark Age intelligence circles. As the chief "investigator" for Bertrand Russell's "British Who Killed Kennedy Committee," Lane was directed by psychological warfare expert Hugh Trevor-Roper in preparing the Rush to Judgment report — a cover-up of Permindex that in all features appears to be reproduced in the House panel report. Lane subsequently was appointed as defense counselor to James Earl Ray, the convicted assassin of King.

Lane's recent associations with the People's Temple death cult is of special interest in light of his long-standing association with the Permindex-New Dark Age faction of the British oligarchy. As this news service alone reported in recent weeks, the Guyana base of the People's Temple was run as a project of the drug and cult proliferating networks associated with Russell and Aldous Huxley.

A serious investigation into the political assassinations of the 1960s as well as the death-terror cults of the 1970s invariably leads back to the same doorstep. Such an investigation necessarily starts with the question: who has been protecting Mark Lane for the past 20 years?

Mexican government to attend Review seminars

The Mexican government has indicated its receptiveness to and interest in two January seminars sponsored by the Executive Intelligence Review by agreeing to send a participating representative. The seminars, which will address the formation of the European Monetary System and Mexico's emergence as a world oil power, are scheduled for New York City and Washington, D.C., Jan. 11 and Jan. 31.

Featured speakers at the seminar include Review Editor-in-Chief Fernando Quijano and U.S. Labor Party Director of Research and Development Uwe Parpart. Their presentations will outline the fundamentals of the European Monetary System, as presented in the recent Executive Intelligence Review supplement, "The Theory Behind the New Monetary System," by U.S. Labor Party Chairman Lyndon H. LaRouche.

The Mexican press has also displayed an especially favorable attitude toward the seminars. This was evidenced by columnist Arturo Blancas of the daily Diario de Mexico. Blancas this week commented that the Review, among all U.S. magazines, has best covered the significance of Mexico's oil finds and the country's desire to use its new oil wealth for industrial development.

Blancas also noted that the Review "praises the Mexican government for its strategy of exploiting the oil to harmoniously develop the country, a strategy that it will take to very advanced industrialization levels."

The necessity for a U.S. policy toward Mexico that is in tune with these plans for industrial development based on oil was highlighted this week when the head of Petroleos Mexicanos, Jorge Diaz Serrano, announced new official estimates of Mexico's oil resources: 40 billion proven barrels of oil, 44.6 billion probable and 200 billion potential. These double last September's estimates, although they are widely recognized to be very conservative.
